HIT A WAGON OF DYNAMITE

Freight Train and Everything Else Around It Wrecked by Explosion.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Driver of Rig Containing the Explosive Escaped With Slight Injuries.

THREE ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 23.—Fast freight No. 94 on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad struck a wagon loaded with 750 pounds of dynamite at the crossing at North Branch, Md., six miles east of here, this afternoon. Two persons were killed and nine were injured, three of them seriously.

THE DEAD.

C. WALTER WHITEHAIR, front brakeman, Brunswick.
NELSON PIKE, Martinsburg, veteran engineer.

THE INJURED.

A. B. SANDERS, fireman, North Mountain, W. Va., arm broken, scalded on face, body and hands.
CHARLES HAMILTON, Baltimore & Ohio operator and postmaster at North Branch, cut on face and body.
SCOTT HAMILTON of Little Orleans, Md., cuts in face and body, at least 50 in number.
JAMES ASHKETTLE, Little Orleans, cut in face.
MARY TWIGG, Oldtown, cut in face.
RAYMOND HAMILTON, cut in face.
MAUD SEIBERT, cut in face.
JAMES LAING, aged 21, who was driving the dynamite wagon, cut on leg and ear drum fractured.

Entire Village Damaged.

The Baltimore & Ohio tower was wrecked as were several residences nearby. The commissary of Mike Elmore, a Wabash sub-contractor, and the Wabash temporary hospital, with other small buildings, were demolished. The windows of the school house and of the residence of G. A. Zimmerly, on the mountain, half a mile away, were all broken out. No house escaped damage.

James Laing, who drove the wagon, escaped with only trivial injury, as did the two horses, although the latter were blown 50 yards into a field. According to eye-witnesses, Laing, hearing the train, became terrified and stopped on the track. The wagon was within three feet of clearing the tracks when the engine struck the rear end, carrying it 50 feet before the explosion. Laing deserted the wagon and ran down from the track into a ditch. He was knocked down and rendered unconscious. The force of the explosion passed over him.

The engine was overturned and stripped of cars following, loaded with high-grade merchandise, were broken, several being demolished. The tracks were thrown out of the bed and twisted serpentine, while rails were snapped like pipestems. The wires were torn down and relief was telegraphed for after going to Pattersons creek on a handcar.

Slowly Cooked to Death.

Several doctors went from here by special train. Engineer Pike was held under iron scraps on top of the boiler while being slowly cooked to death. It required four men to extricate him. The explosion knocked down nearly every person in the neighborhood, hurled Hunter Bowen through a roof, but did not hurt him, and threw parts of the engine 200 yards. Slack telegraph wires were snapped midway between poles by the concussion.

The home of Charles Hamilton was almost torn down. A freight car crashed into one end and the engine ran into the porch. The homes of ex-County Commissioner Adam Seibert, near the railroad, W. A. Seibert, John Bless, Thomas Seibert, John Coleman and Stephen Bloss, all frame structures, were wrecked. The foundation for Charles Hamilton's new house, just finished, was ruined. Sheds, barns and other buildings were razed. Two cows and one horse were killed.

In the office of Contractor Michael Elmore a three-foot iron poker which hung on the office wall was carried across the room and driven through an inch board.

Conductor Charles A. Shipley was sitting in his caboose when the explosion occurred, and was hurled through the back door to the middle of the track.

Two More Railroad Wrecks.

DELMAR, DEL., Sept. 23.—A northbound passenger train on the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk railroad last night ran into a south-bound freight at Bloxom, Va., demolishing both engines, killing Engineer S. J. Brown and his fireman, Francis Donoway, of the passenger train, and severely injuring Engineer Clark of the freight.

CLINTON, MO., Sept. 23.—The northbound "flyer" on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad ran into a string of freight cars today at Lewis station, owing to a misplaced switch. Engineer John Shane was killed.

NOT ACCEPTED BY MITCHELL.

Attorney Lenahan Says Miners' President Did Not Use Plans Submitted by Wales.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 23.—(Special)—James L. Lenahan, attorney for President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, today, in speaking of the suit brought by Attorney A. D. Wales, of Binghamton, N. Y., for $200,000, claiming he directed the manner in which the anthracite coal strike of 1902 could be settled, says Wales submitted two plans, which Mitchell did not accept.

Attorney Lenahan says the defense is ready and is anxious to have the case heard, being confident of success.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PERISH IN VAULT

Floor Gives Way and Nine Little Ones Suffer a Loathsome Death.

OTHERS IN CRITICAL STATE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—At Pleasant Ridge school, seven miles north of Cincinnati, nine and possibly ten school girls were suffocated in a vault during the forenoon recess. A score of others narrowly escaped the same horrible death.

THE DEAD:

LORETTA FINKE, aged 12.
LILLIAN WITHAM, aged 13.
EMMA STEINKAMP, aged 13.
AMELIA HESSE, aged 8.
MARTHA BUHR, aged 8.
EDNA THEE, aged 10.
HAZEL GLOVER, aged 8.
FAUSTA CARD, aged 11.
CHARMIAN CARD, aged 9.

When recess was given, about 30 of the smaller girls were in the outhouse assigned to them. Suddenly the floor gave way, precipitating them into a vault 12 feet deep and walled up with stone like a well. There was in it four feet of water that would have been over the heads of children falling in it singly, but those falling foremost filled up the vault partially, so that others were not entirely submerged.

The girls fell eight feet from the flooring, and the struggles of those who were on top kept at least nine underneath until they were dead. The frame sheds of these vaults were about 20 feet square, without windows, and only one narrow doorway, so that only one girl escaped from the door. She ran into the school building and told the teachers what had happened.

The principal and other teachers rushed to the rescue. The screams of the girls were dimly heard within the vault, but most of them were unable to speak when rescued. The teachers were soon reinforced by the entire population of the town, including the police and fire departments. The latter drained the vault so as to be sure than the rescue was complete.

Even those rescued presented such an appearance as to make many in the crowd of spectators faint, but the sight within the vault beggared all description.

Among the first to come to the relief of Principal Simmerman, were Rev. I. D. Lambert of the Presbyterian church, and Frank S. Johnson. James Smith, aged 14, one of the pupils, climbed to the roof of the schoolhouse, untied the flag and ran to the vault. By means of this impromptu rope, several were rescued.

It was not possible to go down into the vault at first, for the reason that one would impede the little ones who were climbing out. Finally the last girl that could get to the ladder got out and then the men went in and brought out those that remained.

William J. Card, of McCullough & Sons in Cincinnati, had three daughters in the place, of whom Charmian and Fausta lost their lives. Rotha, the twin sister of Fausta, narrowly escaped death. When the crowd of girls rushed into the place Kotha was knocked out of the door into the yard just before the collapse occurred.

Reports about the floor having given way last year are denied by the school trustees.

GREAT STREAM OF LAVA POURS FROM VESUVIUS

Thousands of Awe Stricken Persons Witness Eruption. Makes Great Noise.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

NAPLES, Sept. 23.—Vesuvius is gradually becoming more active. The crust around the crater has broken away and produced magnificent flurries of red hot ashes and sparks of fire, which rise occasionally in immense columns to a height of 700 feet, accompanied by loud detonations and slight earthquakes, the sound resembling a bombardment by artillery.

The eruption tonight was the most spectacular witnessed in the last ten years. A great stream of lava was discharged, threatening wide destruction. The spectacle was witnessed by thousands of awe-stricken persons.

LADY CURZON IS SLIGHTLY BETTER

Her Condition So Serious Last Night Little Daughters Were Taken to Her Bedside.

MUCH CONCERN FELT AT SIMLA

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—There is a chance Lady Curzon will recover from her severe illness. Her condition still is very serious and the crisis has by no means passed, but the five physicians who are in constant attendance on her find there has been some slight improvement and now are hopeful they will be able to restore her to health.

The condition of Lady Curzon during the night caused the gravest anxiety. For a time it was not believed she could rally. So seriously was the situation taken that her two little daughters were brought to the bedside and spent several minutes with their mother. The scene was of the most affecting character.

Lord Curzon is almost exhausted by his long vigil. He is constantly at the bedside of his sick wife and can hardly be induced to take essential rest. When the physicians found there had been a slight improvement in temperature and the general condition of the sick woman, he almost broke down. This improvement was held throughout the day.

Much interest is felt here in the race which the mother and sister of Lady Curzon are making to reach her bedside. Her ladyship is anxious to have them with her.

Lord Curzon's reappointment to the post of Viceroy of India was gazetted today.

Leiters Leave for New York.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Mrs. L. Z. Leiter and her daughter Nannie left for New York today on their way to the bedside of Lady Curzon. Joseph Leiter said it would be impossible for him to leave, and Miss Daisy will not go.

Great Concern in India.

SIMLA, BRITISH INDIA, Sept. 23.—The greatest concern is felt here because of Lady Curzon's illness and the latest bulletins regarding her ladyship's condition are anxiously awaited.

BRITONS PUT FLOWERS ON TOMB OF WASHINGTON

Pathetic Scene Enacted by the Members of the Interparliamentary Peace Union.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The members of the inter-parliamentary union arrived here today from Niagara in their special train. At Mount Vernon, the trip to which was made by boat, the visitors were conducted through the grounds and while standing bareheaded around the entrance to the tomb of Washington a very touching incident occurred. Philip Stanhope, the president of the British parliamentary group, entered the tomb and placed on the sarcophagus containing the remains of Gen. Washington a superb ivy wreath decorated with cut flowers. A card attached to the wreath bore the following words:

"Placed by the British Group of the Inter-Parliamentary Union upon the tomb of George Washington, a son of their own race, in respectful admiration of his noble life and illustrious services to his country and to the world."

A representative of the Belgian Group followed this graceful act by depositing a sheaf of wheat wrought in metal on the tomb.

REDUCTION IS MADE IN IRON BAR PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The Bar Iron association, at its meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, fixed the price of bars at $1.30 the 100 pounds, a reduction of $1.00 a ton. Two eastern concerns who have been underselling the association have agreed to hold to the $1.30 rate.

Foraker and Wilson to Speak.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Senator Foraker will address the Republicans tomorrow at a meeting which will last all day.

KNOX PREPARING A GREAT SPEECH

Consulted the President About Address to Be Made at Philadelphia.

THINKS REPUBLICANS WILL WIN

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.

President Roosevelt's first day in Washington after his return from Oyster Bay, was a busy one. Among the first callers at the White House this morning was Senator P. C. Knox, who had come from Philadelphia on the president's private car the night before. Mr. Knox was with the president for about half an hour.

It is understood he came here to consult with the president regarding the speech he is to deliver before the Business Men's league of Philadelphia, on October 1. This is expected to be an important address, one ranking with the address he delivered in Pittsburgh on the trust question. It is supposed Mr. Knox outlined in substance what he would say at Philadelphia and asked for any suggestions that the president might have to make. Senator Knox had luncheon with the president and will return to Valley Forge tomorrow.

When asked for an expression of opinion on the outlook for the election, Mr. Knox said:

"I think everything is favorable for a big Republican victory. I do not see anything to threaten such an outcome."

Mr. Knox has received many invitations from various parts of the country to make addresses, but he will deliver only two speeches during the campaign. This is in accordance with an understanding he had with the president several months ago.

Another visitor at the White House this morning was Senator Proctor of Vermont. He was congratulated by the president upon the splendid Republican majority his state gave in the recent election. Senator Proctor said he was about to take a vacation shooting wild game up in New Hampshire, and President Roosevelt told him he had certainly earned a vacation after the good work he had done for the party.

A short cabinet meeting was held, attended by Secretaries Morton, Hitchcock and Wilson and Postmaster General Payne, the only members of the cabinet now in the city. After it had adjourned Mr. Payne remained with the president for a time, discussing political matters.

This afternoon President Roosevelt received Alfred Picard, the commissioner general of France to the St. Louis exposition. Mr. Picard was introduced by Ambassador Jusserand.

WINDOW GLASS WORKERS ACCEPT A REDUCTION

Agree to a Cut of 10 Per Cent in Wages for the Coming Blast.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ERIE, Sept. 23.—The wage committee of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America and a committee representing the National Window Glass Manufacturers' association reached an agreement this evening as to the wage scale for the coming year, after a three days' session in this city. There had been two previous conferences on the subject, one in Cleveland and the other in Buffalo, both of two days each.

The agreement signed tonight calls for a horizontal reduction in last year's wage scale of 10 per cent in the four trades represented—blowers, gatherers, flatteners and cutters. This is better than the manufacturers offered at first, which was a reduction of 25 per cent.

The agreement will make it impossible for those so desiring to make any private or individual agreements and will hold good for the coming blast.

A large number of telegrams were received tonight asking the result of the conference, which indicates that a large number of the factories will be ready to start by October 1, and all, perhaps, before the end of the next three weeks.

KERR ENTERS QUIET DEAL

Engineers Scheme to Capture Five More Congressional Districts.

JEALOUS OF GUFFEY

If Plan Works He Hopes to Succeed Him as State Boss.

HAS MANAGERS' SUPPORT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.

State Chairman Penrose has been advised of a Democratic scheme engineered by ex-Congressman James Kerr of Clearfield, Democratic National Chairman Thomas Taggart, Executive Chairman William F. Sheehan and August Belmont to capture five Pennsylvania congressional districts additional to those now represented in congress by the minority party. If this scheme were successful, there would be but 24 instead of 29 Pennsylvania Republican congressmen.

Ex-Congressman Kerr, it is said, is working without the assistance of the Democratic state organization, of which Col. James M. Guffey is the head. Kerr, although ostensibly friendly to Col. Guffey, is in reality his bitterest foe. He has shown this on many occasions, in particular at the St. Louis convention, where he caused to be circulated a petition pledging the Pennsylvania delegates to support Judge Parker. Mr. Kerr did this without first advising with Col. Guffey, and in the hope the colonel would not learn of the conspiracy until enough votes had been pledged to take from Mr. Guffey the control of the delegation.

Seeks to Supplant Guffey.

City Chairman Charles Donnelly of Philadelphia discovered Kerr's game, advised Col. Guffey, and steps were taken which defeated Mr. Kerr's purpose. It is true the Pennsylvania delegates supported Judge Parker, but they did not decide to do so until after they had been advised by their leader, Mr. Guffey.

It has been a matter of public knowledge for a year or more that ex-Congressman Kerr was working to supplant Col. Guffey as the Democratic leader in Pennsylvania. It is with this ultimate ambition he has formed an alliance with Sheehan, Taggart and Belmont. Kerr has convinced these members of the Democratic national committee that there is a good chance this year to steal five congressional districts. It is believed Kerr has been assured that if he can succeed he will be recognized, in the event of Judge Parker's election, as the head of the Pennsylvania organization, the national administration pledging itself to use its influence against the perpetuation of Guffey's leadership.

Has Support of Managers.

The story as it reaches Chairman Penrose, who is investigating the matter, is that $150,000 has been raised by the anti-Guffey members of the national committee, with which to purchase the five districts which Mr. Kerr thinks can be made Democratic in November.

This would permit an allotment of $30,000 to each district. The districts which are to receive this corruption fund are the Tenth, Lancaster county; Eleventh, Lackawanna county; Twelfth, Luzerne county; Seventeenth, Columbia, Montour and Northumberland counties, and the Twentieth, Somerset, Cambria, Blair and Bedford counties.

Although Col. Guffey was in New York today to see Parker, it is not believed he has been informed of the congressional scheme here outlined. There is little doubt but Col. Guffey, as the organization leader in the state, would be glad to elect as many Democratic congressmen as possible. It is also safe to say his efforts in that line would be far more likely to succeed than those of Mr. Kerr. But this fact is not the one which is engaging the attention of the Republican leaders. It is Kerr's effort to unhorse Guffey, aided and supported by Judge Parker's managers—Taggart, Sheehan and Belmont—which is the surprising feature of the game. Everyone has known Kerr aspires to be Democratic "boss" in Pennsylvania, but until the last few days no one believed he had the support of the Parker campaign managers.

Hill Not His Favorite.

No confidence is violated by the statement Col. Guffey has but very little use for Hill or Belmont. The fact that until today he has made no official obeisance to Judge Parker seems to indicate the latter's nomination did not prompt him to become hilariously enthusiastic over the Democratic national ticket. But the colonel is a good party man. He has always been regular. He has done and probably will continue to do all in his power to elect the ticket nominated at St. Louis. What he will do to Kerr is another story. He has clipped the wings of the Clearfield statesman on every occasion when the latter opposed his wishes.

In the judgeship campaign a year ago, it is said Col. Guffey personally contributed $5,000 to assist in the election of a Democratic judge in Clearfield county. The Republican candidate, Judge Gordon, was defeated. It was stated at the time ex-Congressman Kerr was very grateful to Col. Guffey for his generosity, and promised "to be good" in the future. If such a pledge was given it has not been kept.

Among the callers at Republican headquarters were Senator John S. Fisher and M. Clark Watts of Indiana, Charles J. Andrews of Pittsburgh, County Chairman John F. Weiss, Jr., of Dauphin, Senator E. K. McConkey of York, and Lawrence Townsend, United States minister to Belgium.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

FIGHTING AS IN INFERNO

Bloodthirsty and Final Assault Is Raging at Port Arthur.

CZAR GETS MESSAGE

Japanese Are Falling by Battalions Before Wall of Fortress.

TOGO AND KAMIMURA ASSIST

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, Sept. 24.—The Matin's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs:

"Telegrams of which the general staff have as yet no knowledge reached the emperor at 4 o'clock this morning. I can affirm they concern Port Arthur, regarding which place the greatest anxiety prevails. The Japanese are now engaged in a general assault, which is more furious than its predecessors, attacking the town on three sides simultaneously, and employing their whole forces, being determined to finish the business.

Russian mines blew up whole battalions. Gen. Fock especially distinguished himself, directing the fire from the wall, which the Japanese reached after indescribable massacre.

"The whole of Admiral Togo's and Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadrons are aiding the struggle, which, it is feared, will be final. The besieged forces are fighting as in a furnace. A perfect storm of shell is falling on the town, port and fortress, from the whole hill and roadstead. Gen. Stoessel is going from fort to fort, encouraging the defenders in their desperate efforts.

"In St. Petersburg the facts concerning the tragic event which perhaps will terminate by a glorious fall of Port Arthur, are wholly unknown. At court hope has not yet been entirely abandoned."

Send Up War Balloons.

MUKDEN, Sept. 23.—The Russians are using war balloons southeast of Mukden for the purpose of observing the movements of the Japanese in that direction. The line of outposts established by the Japanese is so effective that not even the Chinese have been able to penetrate it. It is impossible, therefore, to say definitely how Marquis Oyama has disposed his forces.

It is believed Gen. Kuroki's army stretches from Benshiu to Bentsiaputze, and the armies of Gen. Oku and Nodzu from Yen-Tai along the high road and railroad to Shahepu, 16 miles south of Mukden, while a fourth army is moving from Dziantchan across the Da mountains. All these roads converge at Mukden.

Of the four armies, those of Oku and Nodzu are nearest Mukden, and their progress will have to be slackened in order to give Kuroki and the flanking columns time to come up. Meanwhile Oku and Nodzu have command of the railroad. Supplies of grain and ammunition are carried from Yen-Tai over heavy roads exposed to capture by enterprising Cossack raiders.

There has been an improvement in the weather at Mukden, which is of great help to the Japanese.

The war balloon was sent up today southeast of Mukden, which seems to indicate that the Japanese are expected to appear in that direction.

Prepare to Cross the Hun.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 24.—Gen. Sakharoff, in a dispatch received yesterday, reports that the Japanese army is moving from Bentsiaputze towards Fu pass, a village six miles northeast of Mukden, and near the right bank of the Hun river. The river at this point is shallow, and probably for this reason the locality has been selected by the Japanese for crossing. If the Japanese succeed in gaining a foothold at Fu pass, Gen. Kuropatkin's position at Mukden will be insecure, as the Japanese will from thence be able to threaten the Russian line of communications. Fu pass is only 20 miles north of Bentsiaputze, but at the present rate of progress the Japanese will probably occupy four or five days in traversing it.

The Russian force south of Mukden is believed to consist of only one army corps, which is acting as a rear guard, and is not intended to offer a serious resistance to the Japanese advance.

A dispatch from Mukden gives details of the Japanese positions as follows:

New Railroad Opened.

Gen. Kuroki has concentrated one army with Bentsiaputze and Benshiu as its radius, and his advance is pushing forward along the road leading to Fushun and Fu pass. The advance forces of two other armies occupy the Yen-Tai mines, the village of Yen-Tai and Sandenu. The front of these three armies is protected by an outpost screen which Chinese are not allowed to pass. A small Japanese detachment is moving along the left bank of the Liao-Yang in order to protect junks.

The opening today of the circum-Baikal road, making it possible to send through trains from European Russia to Vladivostok, is regarded as of supreme importance. Men and munitions can be rushed to the front more rapidly and in greater quantities, and the empire can come more nearly to exerting its full strength against the Japanese. The czar personally congratulated Prince Khilkoff on his splendid achievement.

AMERICAN STEAMER SIEZED BY CANADIAN AUTHORITIES

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 23.—The American steamer Alert of Belpdham and two large scows were seized by the Ruth, a Dominion government fisheries protection steamer. The value of the property seized is about $15,000. The authorities allege the American boat was poaching on fisheries, 125 miles from the American boundary.

TRAIN RAN DOWN AND KILLED FOUR

Two Men, a Woman and an Infant Hurled to Instant Death by P. R. R. Train.

DID NOT HEED WARNING

Two men, a woman and a male child were killed by the Southwestern limited on the Pennsylvania railroad at Braddock shortly after 9 o'clock last night.

THE KILLED.

JOSEPH PAULAUSKI, aged 26, boarded at 983 Talbot avenue, Braddock; had been employed at the Edgar Thomson steel works for five years.

JOHN RAMONOFSKY, aged 41, lived in Wolfton, North Braddock.

MRS. CECYLA AGUSTYNOWICZ, aged 31, of 1122 Washington avenue, Braddock.

JOSEPH RAMONOFSKY, son of John Ramonofsky, one week old.

The identification of those killed was made at 2 o'clock this morning, when Anthony Agustynowicz arrived at the morgue and stated positively the body of the woman was that of his wife and those of the men and the child the persons named.

The husband said his wife and the two men had gone to church together. When she did not return home at the time he expected her, he started an investigation and soon learned of the railroad accident. He then went to the Braddock police station and there learned from Officer Frank Limbacher the kind of clothes worn by the woman killed. The description convinced him that the woman was his own wife. Hurrying to the morgue in Pittsburgh, his fears were confirmed. The dead woman wore a white shirtwaist, black skirt and black hat. These were positively identified by the husband.

Agustynowicz and his wife kept a boarding house at No. 1122 Washington avenue. Besides the husband, two daughters survive, Frances, aged 11, and Anna, aged 8. An uncle of Paulauski, Andrew Krzywicki, is a merchant at No. 920 Washington avenue. It is supposed that when the party left the street car at Thirteenth street, on their way home from church, they decided that it would be dangerous to cross the Pennsylvania tracks at that point, where the road runs in a deep cut, and concluded to walk back to Robinson street through Braddock avenue. While crossing the track at Robinson street they were struck by the train and killed.

In the maze of switch lights, glistening rails and the clangor of bells and whistles, they lost their way.
bells and whistles, they lost their way.

For a moment they stood dazed, forming an awful tableau as the glare of a brilliant headlight revealed their fate to the few spectators who were near. There came a rumble of the flying train and a faint shriek as the limited bounded past. A moment later four mangled bodies were strewn along the track where that tragic tableau had been formed.

After leaving an East Pittsburgh street car at Braddock avenue and Thirteenth street, about 8:30 o'clock, they seemed bewildered about the direction they wanted to take. Later they started out Thirteenth street toward the Pennsylvania railroad.

They were on the main track and were seen by a freight crew whose train was on the siding, waiting for the Southwestern to pass. W. A. Simmons, a brakeman of this crew, called to them to get off the track. The express could be heard approaching at that time. The other members of the freight crew saw the danger the Hungarians were in and tried to warn them. The Hungarians did not seem to understand the trainmen and stood talking in the center of the main track.

In the next instant the express ran them down. The two men were hurled to either side of the engine and one was instantly killed. The infant was hurled from the woman's arms some 50 feet to the side of the tracks, striking a telegraph pole and breaking its neck.

The woman was dragged by the engine for about 50 yards and was killed outright. The engineer stopped his train as soon as possible and the passenger crew, with the freight crew, picked up the bodies. It was found that one of the men was living and Dr. Leopold Rubenstein and Dr. A. W. Schooley were summoned, but the man died before they reached him. The bodies were taken to the railroad station and brought to Pittsburgh on the third section of the train.

Beyond the membership card found on one of the men nothing is known of their identity. It was first reported there was a little girl about six years old with the party. The freight crew deny this. An attempt was made to learn who they were in the Slavish and Hungarian settlement east of Braddock last night, but no one could be found who knew them.

MADE PEACE WITH GUFFEY.

Judge Parker Leads the Pennsylvania Committeeman Back into Camp.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Judge Parker played the role of pacifier today and smoothed out differences which have kept National Committeeman James M. Guffey out of the party councils. Mr. Guffey became an ally of the nominee before he concluded his conference this afternoon, and much satisfaction was expressed that he had returned to the party camp. He promised to work for Judge Parker and Democracy.

Judge Parker did not return to Esopus tonight as was expected, but there is no explanation of the change of plans.

Blackwell, superintendent of missions; the Rev. F. M. Jacobs of New York, the Rev. Dr. G. W. Lewis of Ohio and the Rev. D. F. Bradley of Franklin.

The evening was given over to the women's societies, with Mrs. Harriet E. Watson presiding. Addresses on home and foreign missionary work were made by Mrs. Mary Munroe, the Rev. G. L. Blackwell and Mrs. Mary S. Small.

MT. WASHINGTON HAD A UNIQUE SHOW OF ITS OWN YESTERDAY

The Youngsters Shown in This Interesting Group Are All "Scholars" of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian Church Sunday School. The Pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. S. McClelland, Stands at the Left of the Group, and it Will Be Observed That Every Proud Mother Is Ready to Make Affidavit That Her Own Particular Scholar Is the Best and Brightest.

BABES HAD JOLLY SOCIAL AFFAIR

Fifty Members of Cradle Roll of Mt. Washington Presbyterian Church Attend Function.

YOUNGEST FOUR WEEKS OLD

From her towering height Mt. Washington yesterday afternoon glanced across the Monongahela river, looked with disdain upon the exposition buildings and the fine Wabash trains bound for the world's fair, and declared, "I have a show of my own."

Gathered in the parsonage of the Rev. Dr. C. S. McClelland, pastor of the Mt. Washington Presbyterian church, were a half hundred of the cutest, prettiest, sweetest and daintiest babies ever seen anywhere—at least so all the women declared. The coming generation was represented in all its manifold forms of elementary evolution. The proud mothers were happy and the babies were evidently in a blissful state of contentment and infantile happiness, for not even the semblance of a cry or whimper marred the jargon of baby patter talk.

It was "Cradle Roll day," an occasion set apart yearly by the Sunday school of the church for the gathering of the children enrolled on the cradle roll, and there are 60 on the roll this year. A pleasing feature is the fact that while the "roll" was established nearly two years ago, not a single infant enrolled in that time has died or been even critically ill. The age of the "scholars" ranges from that of Susan Cook Jennings, who is four weeks old and holds her age well, to 3-year-old Theodore Roosevelt Ball.

Aside from the careful attention of their mothers, the babies received additional care from a committee of ladies of the church, while phonographs, a piano, and several scores of bells, donated by James S. Benton, superintendent of the Sunday school, were in almost constant operation in various parts of the house, much to the delight of the guests of honor.

Following this musicale, the little tots gathered about a festive board spread in the Sunday school room of the church adjoining. The menu found much favor. Animal crackers formed the piece de resistance, while the flowing cup of milk that cheers, received gratifying attention. Toothsome cakes and other dainties were also in evidence.

It was only at the hour of leaving that the little ones gave any evidence of displeasure, and then by both sign and word they showed acknowledgment of the fact that the affair was to them a decided social success. Following is a list of the cradle roll:

VERDICT OF SUICIDE IN THE LANG INQUEST

Relatives of Hilltop Man Say Death Was Due to Natural Causes.

The inquest in the death of George Lang, who died last Tuesday at his home in Knoxville, was held yesterday, and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of suicide by carbolic acid. Councilman William E. Lang of the Thirty-first ward, son of the dead man, had some words with Coroner McGeary and his chief deputy, Louis Huchel. Lang maintained that his father died from natural causes, and tried to prove this at the inquest. Coroner McGeary insisted that the real cause of death had to be made known, and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide.

The body of Nicholas Seiler, who was found dead in bed at his room, 610 Grant street, yesterday morning, was identified by his brother, Michael Seiler, of Jeannette, at the morgue last night. Seiler was 36 years old and a barber. He died of consumption.

Mrs. Hannah Kennelly, aged 51, of Glendale, died Thursday night at her home from burns received by a lamp exploding in her hands Wednesday.

Stani Panesin, aged 29, of 20 Kansas street, was struck by a street car at Second and Greenfield avenues at 7 o'clock last night, and died two hours later at the Mercy hospital.

NOW READY FOR BUILDING.

East Pittsburgh Turners Last Night Laid Corner Stone of New Home.

The corner stone of the East Pittsburgh Turn and Gesangverein's new building, in Electric avenue, East Pittsburgh, was laid last evening in the presence of about 3,000 Turners from all over Allegheny county. Previous to placing the stone there was a parade, the chief marshal being Daniel E. Hunihan, burgess of East Pittsburgh. The address of welcome was made by Burgess Hunihan, and John Yenny of Swissvale delivered the address at the corner stone laying. Alois Recksteiner, vice president of the East Pittsburgh verein, told what the society had accomplished since it was formed eight years ago. Thomas Cadden, president of the East Pittsburgh council, and Herman Schuster, president of the Pittsburgh Central Turnbund, also delivered addresses.

Supper was served in the German Benefical Union hall, where a reception was held last night. The new building is to be a two-story brick, covering an area of 60x110 feet, and is to be completed by January 1. The officers are: President, Nicholas Lagely; vice president, Alois Recksteiner; secretary, Emil Deuber; assistant secretary, Hugo Bayer; financial secretary, August Griesman; treasurer, William Hahn; president of the singing society, Christopher Klitch.

SISTERS OF MERCY ORDER FOUNDED 63 YEARS AGO

Members of the Order of the Sisters of Mercy will celebrate the sixty-third anniversary of the founding of their order today with special services. The Mercy order was founded by Mother McCauley and three other women in Ireland in 1841. Seven representatives of the order settled in Pittsburgh at the time the Rt. Rev. Dr. Michael O'Connor was bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese. There are now 325 sisters connected with the mother house in this city. The Mercy order has charge of Mercy hospital, a seminary in Westmoreland county, and many of the members are employed as teachers in parochial schools in this state.

Have Each Other Held for Court.

John Falk was held for court trial yesterday by Justice Walker of Wilkinsburg on a charge of assault and battery made by George Dowling. Both men are prominent in business in Braddock. Falk is a tenant of Dowling's and the two quarreled about rent. Falk then sued Dowling for assault and battery before Alderman John Groetzinger and Dowling was held for court. The hearing before Justice Walker last night was on a counter charge.

COMMENCEMENTS OF TWO SCHOOLS

Forty-Eight Pupils in Twenty-Seventh and Thirty-Eighth Wards Receive Diplomas.

ADDRESSES BY EDUCATORS

Two public schools of the South Side, the St. Clair, in the Twenty-seventh ward, and the Beltzhoover, in the Thirty-eighth ward, held their annual commencements last night. The exercises of the St. Clair school were held in the Bane school hall, which was packed with friends and relatives of the 31 students who are headed for the High school. Prof. James K. Bane, principal of the school, is probably the dean of principals in Pittsburgh, having completed his thirty-seventh year in that capacity.

PROF. J. K. BANE,
Who Is Serving His 37th Year as Principal of the St. Clair Schools.

Arthur Hamerschlag, director of the Carnegie Technical schools, made the principal address to the class, talking almost wholly of the technical school and of the possibilities it will open to graduates of the public schools who have mechanical talents. The address to the members of the class was made by Prof. R. H. Holbrook, principal of the South Side High school.

Frank M. Caldwell presented the diplomas. An interesting feature was a club swinging exercise by the youngest pupils of the school. Musical selections were rendered by Miss Anna Barchfeld, Messrs. Hammel and Smink and Mrs. Smink. Little Gaynel Wright contributed a recitation which earned her an encore. The names of the class follow:

Thomas Carson, Charles O. Church, Almeran A. Cooley, Wilhelmina E. Dewalt, Carrie M. Donnelly, May Fennessy, Alfred Forst, Lelia V. Gue, Robert Harturg, Elizabeth McCarney, Mary McSwiggen, Reese F. Morris, Elsie J. Parcell, Minnie M. Reber, Alice M. Sankey, Mabel Worthington, Thomas Jacobs, Freda Jenuine, Viola Junker, Charles J. Kalback, Alice M. Kalback, Alma Kimble, Paul H. Lankford, Ralph Lew, Joseph McAllister, Lenora Sayenga, Caroline A. Schmitz, Alma M. Spellman, Elsie J. Taylor, David E. Wigging and Charles H. T. Winters.

The commencement exercises of the Beltzhoover school were held in the Thirteenth United Presbyterian church, Washington and Beltzhoover avenues. Diplomas were awarded to 17 boys and girls who are in the high school class. After prayer by the Rev. F. H. Farrington, and a vocal selection by Mrs. Bessie Works Thomas, Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction, was introduced as the principal speaker of the evening. He made an address on the value of education.

Addresses were made by Prof. Samuel Andrews, superintendent of city schools, and by D. L. Gillespie, president of the Central board of education. Pierre de Backer gave a violin solo and vocal selections were given by Miss Helen Grimes and Miss Rose Leizkus. Diplomas were awarded to the following:

PITTSBURGH FAMILY DESTITUTE IN SOUTH

Left Here in Small Sail Boat and Were Wrecked Near New Orleans.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—Robert Shatzen, aged 26, and his 24-year-old wife, together with their three children, Florence, aged seven; Irene, aged five, and Robert, 16 months old, of Pittsburgh, were discovered here by the agent of a charitable organization in destitute circumstances.

They left Pittsburgh five months ago in a small sail boat, which was almost wrecked 50 miles above New Orleans. Five days ago Shatzen's oldest child, a boy, aged 12, died here from exposure. He was removed to a hospital, but insufficient food and clothing had emaciated his system.

Shatzen's mother, Mrs. Mary Shatzen, resides at 128 Pike street, Pittsburgh. His wife and children will be provided with transportation home by charitable organizations, but he will have to furnish his own fare. Since their arrival here the Pennsylvanians have been occupying a shanty built by Shatzen from wood gathered on the river. He had barely obtained a living by the sale of drift-wood.

WYMAN TRYING TO SAVE HIS MACHINE

Bitter Strife Exists in Allegheny Over Alleged Grafting of Officials.

TSCHUME CASE PARTLY CAUSE

It is expected that the hearing in the Tschume case will be finished this morning in common please court No. 2, before Judges Collier and Macfarlane. The testimony of the petitioner, the Anti-Saloon league, was finished two weeks ago. It is believed in Allegheny that Tschume will lose his wholesale liquor license and there is much speculation as to who will later on be known as the "official bottler" on the North Side.

In so far as Tschume and his possible fate is concerned, little interest is being manifested, but the results that have accrued since certain exposures have been made are furnishing a nice bit of gossip for those interested in public affairs in Allegheny. In scope the Tschume case has been far-reaching in its effects. Coincident with it have been charges of "grafting" made against certain police officials. The up-shot of this is that Mayor Wyman's official family has been all cut up.

Some of those prominent in the administration have openly expressed chargin and disgust at the alleged practices of accused police officials. Wyman has vainly tried to retain harmony among his appointees. His endeavor has been to promote a spirit of allegiance among those in the various departments.

But in the past few days it has been reported that Director Scandrett is not on speaking terms with City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter and Director McIlvain. Mr. Porter is credited with saying that it is unjust that all those connected with the administration should suffer the odium caused by the misdeeds of a few.

So far has the ill feeling gone that Mr. Porter and Harry M. Davidson, the delinquent tax collector, have asked that they be put upon the list of campaign orators of the Allegheny county Republican committee. This last break is said to mark the beginning of the disruption of Wyman's machine. Porter and Davidson managed two campaigns for Wyman in opposition to the Republican party, and in both were successful. Their desire to get back into the Republican ranks as active workers indicates their position with Wyman and Scandrett, and lends credence to the report that few words are being wasted in conversation by the two factions in Wyman's cabinet.

Director Scandrett has widened the breach existing between him and Director McIlvain by a reported interference with the men in McIlvain's department. A fight Scandrett had with Martin Mitchell last Monday night on the second floor of the city hall is a live topic at present. Mitchell is street commissioner in the western district of the city. His appointment was the reward of his work in the big First ward, where he has a large following. Scandrett is alleged to have declared to Mitchell that the latter was a "dead one" and that he could no longer "deliver the goods" in the First. Several ugly names were exchanged and friends of the two rushed between them as Mitchell started to go into the director. These two are not on speaking terms, either.

This internal strife is the indirect outcome of the Tschume case, and there is a belief in Allegheny that the graft charges will not die in the office of the district attorney.

A well equipped gymnasium and a large playground, under the exclusive control of the school, offer ample opportunity for sports and games. These are individual "corrective work," under trained directors, give the physical development of both boys and girls its due emphasis. Oral expression, singing, reading aloud, public speaking and debate have their proper place in the curriculum.

Owing to its non-commercial character, the entire income of the school can be applied in making the school better. The building has just been redecorated throughout.

CONTEMPT CASE FOLLOWS RIOT

Glassport Moulders Charged With Failing to Obey Injunction Are Taken to Court.

JUDGES DELAY THE DECISION

The petition of the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company to have Emerson Rumsey, William Fidlar, Benjamin Dove and George Crathors adjudged guilty of contempt of court in interfering with the employes of the plaintiff company, which was amended to include John Church, was before Judges Collier, Brown and Macfarlane yesterday. They took the testimony of both sides, but after a half-hour's conference in chambers could not arrive at a conclusion and court was adjourned until this morning.

The Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company was represented at this hearing by Attorneys J. M. and Mark W. Stoner, and the strikers by Attorney William M. Price. The original bill in equity, which asked for an injunction and recited the troubles at Glassport, where the plant is situated, was filed August 10, and after a hearing on the matter the defendants, Emerson Rumsey, William Fidlar, Benjamin Dove, George Crathors, George Elwood, Andrew Coates and their alleged associates and abettors, were enjoined from interfering with the employes of the plaintiff's plant or in any manner violating the peace in the vicinity of the works. This was handed down August 17.

Claim Injunction Was Disregarded.

On September 3 the plaintiff company filed a petition to have Rumsey, Fidlar, Dove and Crathors adjudged in contempt, setting forth that notwithstanding the injunction they continued to harass the workmen, call them names and attempted to keep them from their employment, setting forth a number of special acts alleged to have been committed by them. Elwood and Coates were not included in the contempt proceedings.

Although the hearing was fixed for yesterday, on Thursday night, according to the testimony given yesterday, a large crowd of strikers, members of the Iron Molders' union, are alleged to have gathered in the neighborhood of the plant and started a riot. About 11 p. m. Superintendent Duncan MacDougal said Emerson Rumsey, backed by a dozen or two strikers, closed in and caught the watchman. One of the superintendents inside the office saw the fracas and whistled for two deputies. When these deputies arrived the strikers retired and threw rocks, railroad springs and other missiles at the building. The strikers then shot toward the building and the watchman returned the fire, hitting one of the strikers, William Fidlar, in the calf of the leg. This fusilade kept up about 10 minutes. The office building after the trouble was said to look like a wreck. This recital was corroborated by about 12 witnesses, nearly all of whom identified the men named in the petition as being in the crowd and aiding in the work of demolition.

After Eight Drinks Lost the Count.

The strikers, many of whom were in court, all denied being present, with the exception of Rumsey, who said he was there, but had not thrown stones, and was trying to get the others not to do so. In other words, he was there as a peacemaker, he said.

Others of the defendants attempted to prove alibis by telling where they were and what they had to drink. One man stated he was in a saloon at the time and after he had taken eight drinks he stopped counting them.

Attorney Price presented a doctor's certificate stating that Fidlar was wounded and could not be in court. After the riot Rumsey preferred a charge of felonious shooting against Fred Domin and Benjamin Neville of the foundry force and both were arrested. They gave bail in $1,000 for court. Both men denied having anything to do with the shooting, alleging they were down in the mill at the time.

Attorney Price argued that as Church had not been included in the original injunction, he could not be a party to any contempt proceedings even if he were guilty, which was denied. He said that as to the others the case was so simple that he was willing to submit it to the court on the evidence, as he was sure it favored the defendants.

Claims Charges Are Proved.

Attorney Stoner said that associates in the original injunction included Church, as he was shown positively to have been an associate and also accepted service in the case. He said that the statements of the men were unworthy of belief as shown by their conduct, and that the many uninterested witnesses on the plaintiff's side had surely established a complete case of contempt in its worst form and that a commitment should be issued.

Burgess Patrols Streets.

Special police in charge of Burgess H. C. Griffin and Chief of Police Kelley patrolled the streets of Glasport near the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry company's plant last night. The residents were still greatly excited over the battle that took place Thursday night between the strikers and deputies. William Fidlar, the striker who was shot, was yesterday removed to the Mercy hospital where efforts will be made to locate the bullets by the X-ray.

It is expected that Sheriff James W. Dickson will take charge of the situation at the request of Superintendent Duncan MacDougal of the plant, who says the police authorities are unable to preserve order. Burgess Griffin has been appealed to by business men and property owners to preserve order and instructions have been issued to keep the strikers away from the plant. The latter are firm in the belief that they will eventually win. Each of them receives $7 a week from the Amalgamated association. Some of the strike breakers are said to be tired of the siege and to have made preparation to leave today after receiving a bonus of $1 for each of the 80 days they have been on duty. Women have joined the men in picketing the plant.

Surety of the peace cases against Emerson Ramsey and William Fidlar will be heard in criminal court this morning.

CHARGED UPON PARADE.

Allegheny Police Broke Up Campaign Procession—Three Young Boys Captured and Arrested.

Allegheny police officers arrested three boys in Anderson street last night, charging them with placing obstructions on the street car tracks. The boys deny, declaring they were marching with a Roosevelt and Fairbanks campaign club, composed of young Republicans, and that Officers Carroll and Davis, who made the arrests, charged upon them, breaking up the procession.

Almost every youngster in line had some instrument of noise, the three captured being armed with tin cans and sticks, which they were using vigorously. The names of the prisoners are: Thomas Telfer, aged 14, Isabella street; Thomas Moore, aged 15, 119 Anderson street, and Howard Nagle, aged 15, 222 Manchester way.

STORY OF A BEGGAR'S ARREST TOLD QUAINTLY IN M'QUAIDE'S LINGO

"Anything doing today?" Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide was aked yesterday afternoon.

"Why, yes," returned the superintendent, with a twinkle in his eye, "Lally and Leff got a pick-up this morning—a Queen Moll working with sap sticks. They pulled her off her grift and she's back in the booby hatch."

McQuaide reeled off the thieves' jargon as though it was perfectly intellegible to all and without stopping, said: "She sneezed the elbows, but they were wise and nicked her before she could get onto the shorts. When they brought her in she put her saps aside and said she was just drifting through and stopped at a bean joint to get a bath tub and sinkers; that she was on the way to catch the rattlers for Beaver, where there was to be a gathering of the Yeggs, whose queen she was."

All of which, when translated, gave the information that the detectives (elbows) had arrested a female beggar, who, with the aid of crutches (sap sticks) which she did not need and a bunch of cards, on which was printed an appeal for charity, was working pedestrians on the downtown streets. That she "sneezed" the officers mean that she recognized them as officers and tried to get away on a street car (shorts.)

"She may be the queen of Yeggs, or tramps," said McQuaide, "and may have been going to a gathering or convention, though the fraternity usually hold them down south during the winter. She was anxious to know what we would do with her and said if we would give her 'hours' she would not be minutes in getting out of town.

"She's a good one," continued McQuaide, "and said she did not want any kangaroo court, meaning that she did not want to be sentenced before she was up for trial, but I'm afraid she will get 30 days at least."

WHAT BECAME OF THOSE BONDS?

Late Recorder J. O. Brown Said to Have Received $5,000 Worth from a Woman.

PUT IN MAYOR'S OFFICE SAFE

Who has the $5,000 worth of bonds which Joseph O. Brown, then recorder of Pittsburgh, was seen putting into the safe that stands in the mayor's office? That is the question which, according to J. R. P. Brown, the brother of the dead politician, now is agitating the owner of the bonds.

To learn the answer to the question J. R. P. Brown has repeatedly tried to see Mayor Hays. He also says that the owner of the bonds, a woman, has asked the mayor to help her find them. The bonds have disappeared, Mr. Brown says, and the owner would like to have them, as they were given to Mr. Brown's brother, Joseph O. Brown, for safe keeping only a few days before his death. Mr. Brown says he also still wants to know what has become of other papers belonging to his brother.

"My brother's resignation as recorder of Pittsburgh was to take effect on a Monday," Mr. Brown said last night. "He left his office on the preceding Friday and it was certainly his intention to go back the next day and no doubt on Monday, too, when, it was supposed, his successor, to be appointed by the governor, would be installed in office. His condition prevented him from going back to the recorder's office after leaving it on Friday. What became of the private papers in his desk and in the safe? What became of the $5,000 worth of bonds which a woman gave him for safekeeping and which were put into the safe in the mayor's office? These are questions I would like to have answered."

Mr. Brown called at the mayor's office the other day. The result of his visit is best told in his own words. He said:

"I went down to the mayor's office, accompanied by a deputy coroner. I wrote my name on a piece of paper and folded it up, handing it to one of the clerks in the outer office. The clerk went up to the mayor's chief clerk, Walter Black. Walter wrote something on a piece of paper and pointed to his desk, where the paper lay. The clerk seemed to read it and then he came back to me and asked me if I had stated my business on the paper I had handed him to give to Mayor Hays. I told him I had not. Then I wrote on another piece of paper that I would like to see the mayor concerning the affairs of Joseph O. Brown, his predecessor. The clerk went into the mayor's office and was absent a half-hour, as I remarked by my watch. He finally returned and said the mayor did not have time to talk to me. Then I wrote again, asking if the mayor could see me this week. The clerk came back presently and said the mayor had said he had 'no more time' to give to the J. O. Brown case.

"No more time! Well, he had not given me any time, for I had never talked to him about the case. I don't know what time he can have given to the case, and I would like to know, for from his expression, 'no more time,' I imagine he has already devoted considerable time to it. How he became interested in it I don't know. I am informed that the woman who gave the $5,000 worth of bonds to my brother Joe to keep for a few weeks may have asked the mayor if he knew anything about them. I have called once at the mayor's office since the episode I have described, but I was not admitted to the mayor. I want to ask the mayor some questions. I want to question Walter Black."

"Who is the woman who gave J. O. Brown the bonds?" Mr. Brown was asked.

"I would not like to give her name without her consent," was the reply. "Ask Walter Black. He knows."

Walter Black was Recorder Brown's nephew and his chief clerk in the recorder's office and is a legatee under his will. J. R. P. Brown has stated several times that Black was indignant at the stirring up the recorder's affairs and the manner of his death received at the hands of his brother.

In the litigation about J. O. Brown's will no mention was made of $5,000 worth of bonds which had mysteriously disappeared, and the recorder's friends express surprise that the woman referred to by J. R. P. Brown did not then come forward to prove her claim, if she has one. Mr. Brown does not think that Mayor Hays actually knows anything about the bonds, but thinks he could help to clear the matter up.

"I would like to examine the desk and safe," he said.

MORE CARS PROMISED.

Pittsburgh Railways Company Makes Note of Travel's Demands and Promises Some Relief.

To meet the demands of increased travel on the West End lines, the Pittsburgh Railways Company will double its service on the Crafton, Ingram, Elliott and Sheridan routes next Monday or Tuesday. Fifteen additional cars will be put on, making a five-minute "street" service, morning and evening. At present the cars run 10 minutes apart. A schedule was made some months ago after a number of mills in the West End had closed down and travel had fallen off. There is now a six minute service between the city and Island avenue on the McKees Rocks route.

Nine additional "trippers" were put on the Center and Negley line last night, making a five minute service morning and evening. Trailers were also put on the Hamilton avenue line.

Beginning next Monday Tarrford city and Pitcairn cars which now have their western terminus at the Turtle Creek switch will run down to Cabel avenue, East Pittsburgh, one mile farther west. This will do away with the necessity of passengers bound for East Pittsburgh from Trafford city, transferring.

WOMAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF SHOPLIFTING

Ethel Love of Anderson street, Allegheny, was arrested yesterday in a downtown department store for shoplifting. She carried a basket, and when arrested by Detectives Aymer and McGough, a new fall suit, a stylish coat and a fine skirt were found packed away. The woman claims to be only 15 years of age, although she appears to be much older.

STEPS TO SEIZE RAILROAD TRACT

Allegheny Officials Propose to Regain Land Ceded to Fort Wayne Company.

COMMITTEE FAILS TO MEET

Steps will be taken in Allegheny councils next week toward the seizure by the city of a tract of land adjoining South park, First ward, which has been occupied by the Fort Wayne Railroad Company for nearly 50 years. This tract is 50 feet wide and 800 feet long, and extends from Federal street to Marion street, and lies along the Fort Wayne passenger station.

In 1857 it was a part of the central parks ceded to the state by the in-lot holders and given by the state to the city of Allegheny for public parks. In those days the land was a common pasture. The use of the strip of land now in question was given by the city to the railroad company for track purposes and the right of the company to hold it under this grant was never questioned until July, this year.

It was then found that the land had not been occupied by tracks since the elevation of the railroad tracks in Allegheny and that the sidings, which had formerly been on the land, had been removed. Its present use is restricted to cabs and to the express wagons carrying baggage to and from the station. Director McIlvain immediately decided that the land should revert to the city by reason of it being no longer used for the purpose originally intended.

The director has a project of extending Church avenue from Federal street to Marion avenue, and the accession of this property back to the city would enable him to carry out this scheme as it lies in a direct line with Church avenue. Councils took the matter up and a committee of six was appointed to inquire by what authority the railroad retained possession of it.

This committee has done nothing. Three meetings have been called and there has not been a quorum at any meeting. A meeting was called for last night, but only two of the six members put in an appearance—Dr. Andrew Easton, the chairman, and Henry Meyer. This led Chairman Easton to declare that he would make one more attempt next week to get a meeting and if he failed he would introduce an ordinance in councils directing the proper officers to take possession of the land in the name of the city. The four members of the committee who absented themselves last night were R. L. Henderson, Thomas McHenry, M. J. Brown and Peter Born.

CUSTER GAVE UP CHILD THAT CALLED HIM "PAPA"

After Three Years' Search a New Haven Woman Gets Possession of Her Baby Girl.

Frank B. Custer of 6027 Broad street yesterday parted with a 4-year-old girl who called him "papa," relinquishing claim to the child he had reared rather than face charges of kidnaping made by the baby's mother, Mrs. Mary Culber of New Haven, Conn. For three years the mother made fruitless efforts to get her daughter. Yesterday she came to Pittsburgh and appealed to Magistrate Stewart. The child was taken away by the mother, who appears but a strange woman to the little girl.

According to the story told by Mrs. Culber, and which Custer did not deny, the couple lived together in the east, but separated owing to a quarrel, Custer coming to Pittsburgh and bringing the child with him. After the mother finally located Custer and the child she was unable to come after her for lack of funds, and Custer was left alone to rear the child as his own.

Mrs. Culber stated that she was married now and wanted her baby, and said it was only recently that she obtained Custer's address, although she had from time to time received letters from him. Mrs. Culber did not care to prosecute the case further than to obtain possession of the child, and Custer was discharged from custody. Custer is said to be the agent of a liquor house.

GRAFT HEARING A FIZZLE AT HOMESTEAD LAST NIGHT

The first open meeting in the "graft" investigation being conducted by members of the borough council of Homestead, was called off last evening on account of the absence from the borough of important witnesses. The meetings have all been star chamber sessions heretofore and nothing of importance has leaked out. The fact that last evening was to have been open to the public aroused interest and hundreds of citizens were disappointed.

Hoop Officials Await Dinkey.

Vice President Richard Fitzgerald of the Amalgamated association received a telephone message yesterday from Manager I. W. Jenks of the Carnegie Steel Company's hoop department at Youngstown to the effect that immediately after President A. C. Dinkey of the company returns, the Ohio plants disputes will be taken up with him. Mr. Dinkey is hunting in the northwest. President T. J. Shaffer of the association returned to headquarters here yesterday. He expects to deliver an address at a labor meeting in Youngstown tomorrow. "Mother" Jones also will speak.

Hair - Vain?

Why not? A little vanity is a good thing. Perhaps you can't be hair-vain, your hair is so thin, so short, so gray. Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 40 years. I am now in my 91st year and have an abundance of soft brown hair, which I attribute to the use of your preparation."—Mrs. Mary A. Keith, Belleville, Ill.

CHARGED WITH SELLING NATURALIZATION PAPERS

Clerk in New York Municipal Court is Held in $2,000 Bonds for Examination.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—In the arrest today of Sebastian Fasancello, a clerk in the First municipal court, presided over by Justice Daniel Finn, "Battery Dan," on a charge of selling bogus naturalization papers, Supt. of Elections Morgan has taken the first step toward the prosecution of prominent politicians. Fasancello was arraigned before United States Commissioner Ridgeway and held in $2,000 bonds for examination.

His arrest was made by secret service men, on information furnished by Supt. Morgan. He is said to be a Tammany captain in the Fourteenth election precinct of the First assembly district, of which Justice Finn is the leader.

Fasancello's apprehension is considered very important by the authorities, because it is expected that it will lead to sensational developments. There has been much talk of a syndicate which for several years is declared to have been supplying Italians with fraudulent naturalization papers.

What Is Your Favorite Underwear?

That is the question we put to them. In our Haberdashery there is a right good illustration regarding the old chap's way of referring to prices and assortments—"You pays your money and you takes your choice;" for really there is every good kind of underwear that is made. If a man takes a notion that he wants undergarments that cost a good many dollars a garment, he has simply to state his choice; if he simply wants a serviceable and warmth-giving undergarment for a very modest price, we will accommodate him. In a word, we know of no larger collection of underwear in the greater city, and we know of no such good underwear sold for the same considerate prices as are charged here.

French Balbriggan at $1.00 a garment. The price is a special one. Most serviceable goods made for the money.
Merino, white or brown, $1.25 a garment.
Gray merino, $1.00 a garment.
Gray worsted, $1.50 a garment.
Gray worsted, all wool, $2.00 a garment.
We are agents for the noted Deimel Linen Mesh Underwear, selling for $3.25 a garment.
We are agents for Dr. Jaeger's Sanitary All-Wool Underwear, also socks, nightshirts, knee warmers, all sold at their catalogue prices.
We are agents for Western Pennsylvania—sole agents—for the finest underwear manufactured, that of Allen, Solly & Co., London. We have London underclothes in merino, lamb's wool, silk-and-wool mixture and pure silk—from $7.50 a suit up to $80.00 a suit.

Men's Shirts to Order.

We are pleased to announce receipt of the new 1904 materials for men's shirts. They come in an endless variety of patterns and colors. Not only Percales, Oxfords and Madras, but Silks and Flannels.

The man who has his shirts made to order in most cases is the particular man. He wants an exact fit, he wants exclusive styles, he wants comfort to the utmost degree. Those are the points that we lay particular stress upon in making shirts to order. We not only want to satisfy the customer, but want to satisfy ourselves that everything is right.

We will make you shirts of madras, percale or oxford at $2.00 and up to $4.00.
We will make you shirts of silk at $4.50.
We will make you shirts of flannel at $4.50 and up to $7.50.

New Mousseline Ribbons in widths of 4, 4½, 5 and 5½ inches, all new Autumn shades, at 25c a yard.

Two finishes—woven and flax—and the tints are Caspian Blue, Danube Blue and Swallow Gray.

25c Veiling, 2 Yards for 25c.

If you haven't use for two yards, take one and we'll say 15c. Black tuxedo net in plain and fancy meshes, with and without spots. Also in plain hairline design.

Boys' Overcoats Much Under Price.

We'll tell you at once they are sample coats, or we couldn't think of selling them for any such figure. Strictly all-wool kerseys, cheviots and frieze. Sizes for boys of 4, 5, 6, 13, 14 and 15 years. You'll notice there is not all sizes. Made to stand the hardest kind of service.

Coats that under ordinary conditions would bring $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00, at $4.00 and $5.00.

A Splendid List of Books, 45c Each.

And yet we only picked out these at random from several times that number to be found in our Book Nook at the same prices. Indeed, we never had a stronger list of popular titles—books by the most noted and well-liked authors, to offer at this price. Some of them are masterpieces of fiction, and all of them have been selling away up into the thousands.

Perhaps you have been ineffectually waiting your turn for some of these at the circulating library, in which case you'll be delighted to see them in the 45c list.

Saturday, September 24, 1904.

It is reported from Patton that the mob has dispersed and there will be no lynching. Second thought in this case is best. The crime which aroused the wrath of the people of Patton was heinous in the extreme and the legal penalty imposed by this state is inadequate punishment. Mob vengeance, however, has no place in a republican form of government. If the law is not severe enough it can be and should be amended in due form. In the meantime the courts can be trusted to mete out to such an infamous scoundrel all of the punishment the law allows, and there is no danger of interference by pardon or other means.

Thugs are active again. At this season the petty criminal is looking for winter quarters. He must obtain money by some foul means or get committed to workhouse or penitentiary, for this fellow never works. It is the part of wisdom, then, for the good citizen, particularly if he must be abroad at night, to take extra precautions to secure his own safety. The police need to be more than ordinarily vigilant, and if they do their full duty they can prevent some of the "hold-ups." But the citizen can do much for himself by keeping on the alert and providing himself means of self-defense. The news reports from day to day carry ample warning and amply indicate the need of rural police.

By the collapse of an outbuilding in connection with one of the schools in Cincinnati, a number of small children were killed and others injured. This indicates criminal negligence on the part of someone. It should be the business of someone to see that such buildings are safe, and that business ought to be attended to with scrupulous care. The lives of little children need to be guarded more carefully in such matters than those of adults, for they are less likely to discover danger for themselves. Innocent of harm and untrained in the stress of materials, the little ones may go to death unheeding. It is a crying shame to have a death-trap maintained for them in connection with their school.

Candidate Parker, Candidate Davis and the whole tribe of Democratic spellbinders are making a specialty of what they denounce as extravagance in the maintenance of government. They have the fact that the total cost has increased and that the cost per capita is slightly larger. No one will deny these things. But they know it is untrue to call this extravagance. If they are capable of understanding a plain business proposition they know the increased expenditures of the national government have secured greater efficiency in the performance of national duties and that for the greater part the money spent is a good investment. This applies equally to the Panama canal, the navy, the coast defense, the river and harbor improvement, the delivery of mails and even to the pension list. The money is well spent in the interest of the nation.

When the British delegates to the convention of the interparliamentary union placed flowers and a tribute of praise upon the tomb of George Washington at Mt. Vernon yesterday they went as far as they might in exemplifying their faith in universal peace and good will. These are not the first Britons who have testified their appreciation of the character and services of Washington, nor will they be the last. Yet the tribute comes with peculiar sentimental favor from them. They are here appealing to the president of this republic to do what he may to dispense with war. They recognize the influence this nation has exerted in world affairs, always for the welfare of humanity, and they give token that they realize Washington gave impulse to that force for good. It is a mere incident that Washington's service to the world included the defeat of Great Britain in a desperate war against injustice. He was at heart always a man of peace.

Chairman James Knox Polk Hall is not the only Pennsylvania Democrat who dreams dreams. There is the Hon. James Kerr of Clearfield. He dreams. It has been known for some time that Mr. Kerr has been leaning upon the arm of Mr. August Belmont at Democratic national headquarters. Now it develops that he contemplates the capture of five congressional districts in Pennsylvania for the Democratic party, at $30,000 the district, and the state leadership of the party for himself. Mr. Kerr shows appreciation of the value of a Democratic member of congress from Pennsylvania, since he puts it at three times the salary for a term, but he has not explained what a Democratic congressman may do to return interest on the investment. We do not think there is any danger that Mr. Kerr will carry five districts in this state now represented by Republicans, but if he should he would surely be entitled to his old place as chief clerk of a Democratic house. Mr. Kerr is dreaming and chasing rainbows in his dreams.

Kuropatkin Outflanked.

Advices from Tokyo indicate the near approach of another great battle about Mukden. There is no official prediction of such an event, but the Japanese war office gives out the news of "several fights" in the vicinity of the village of Tie-Ling, in which the Japanese arms were victorious, the Russians fleeing northward. Tie-Ling village is near the pass of that name, where the Russians announced they would make a determined stand after the retreat from Liao-Yang. It is 20 miles north of Mukden, around which Gen. Kuropatkin's army is concentrated.

If this news is accurate the Russian line of communications is in imminent danger of interruption. There is no information concerning the size of the Japanese force which has penetrated so far to the north, nor is there any data concerning the Russian garrison maintained at that point. It is a fair presumption, however, that if there had been any large Russian force in that vicinity the fighting would have been more severe. Gen. Kuropatkin's dispatches have never mentioned the Japanese advance along the Liao river, and it is just possible that while he was planning to prevent a flanking movement by Gen. Kuroki on the east the Japanese western army has passed him unnoticed.

Latest advices from Gen. Kuropatkin told that the Japanese on the south and east were pressing slowly forward. The heaviest fighting was at Daling pass, which was taken by the Japanese after a brisk action of all arms. Thus it appears the Japanese movements are again timed with that marvelous precision that has marked the campaign throughout. While Russia wondered at Marshal Oyama's delay in pressing Gen. Kuropatkin's front, when he must have known that his force was daily growing larger, Oyama was taking measures to prevent the repetition of failure in his flanking movement at Liao-Yang. At least the Japanese commanders have, at every step, demonstrated their ability to confuse the enemy and to mask their strategy. They have shown a precision of co-operation that must be marveled at even in these days of wireless telegraphy. The friendship of the Chinese may be a factor in their intelligence department, but accounting for that, the Russians are still far inferior in that direction.

Boiling Water for Schools.

The district commissioners, health officer and commissioners of education in Washington have united in a movement to compel school pupils to drink only boiled water. An emergency appropriation was provided and each of the 150 schoolhouses were provided with an apparatus for sterilizing the Potomac water, so when the term opened in Washington Monday children were forbidden to drink any but boiled water. There are about 50,000 school children in the city of Washington, and they did not take kindly to the new order. No provision has been made for the purchase of ice, so the water is not only tasteless, but warm and unpalatable. Hence comparatively little was consumed, and that was taken with wry faces.

Aside from its educational value in encouraging other members of a family to destroy germs in the Potomac water, the experiment will no doubt decrease the prevalence of typhoid fever in the district. If the children in schools generally are taught that river waters are not clean their parents will soon absorb the lesson and the result will be an agitation in favor of purer water supplies. But there would seem to be no reason except motives of economy for not cooling the drinking water with ice. It has been held that Potomac-made ice would be as dangerous as the water itself, but artificial ice factories are too common now to make the use of natural ice a necessity.

The requirement about boiling the water is much more sensible than the agitation in some places to prevent the use of common drinking cups. In the Washington schools, for instance, the medical inspection is so excellent that there is little danger that the pupils will transmit communicable diseases. To demand individual cups for children is an exhibition of extreme microbephobia. But it has been shown that the typhoid fever germs must enter the alimentary canal through food or liquid taken into the stomach, so the drinking water sterilization ought to be effective provided similar precautions are taken about drinking milk and eating certain kinds of vegetables.

Mr. Davis and the Tariff.

Mr. Henry Gassaway Davis, Democratic candidate for vice president, addressed a large meeting in Wheeling Thursday evening. While not reiterating the language of his party platform that "protection is robbery," he did declare that "the tariff as a whole needs revision." The platform utterance is apparently a little too strong to suit his views. He would not entirely do away with the "robbery," but would modify it. We do not know whether this evasion is due to any fear that, if protection should be conceded to be robbery, he might be convicted of receiving stolen goods. Mr. Davis has been engaged in the conduct of protected industries.

We are inclined rather to accept the view that Mr. Davis is restrained by his good business sense. His duty as the candidate of his party compels him to seem to accept those platform declarations which his running mate, Mr. Alton B. Parker, has declared are all "admirable," but his own good sense revolts against that declaration about the tariff. His effort at compromise on a "safe and sane" basis does Mr. Davis credit, but will not arouse the enthusiasm of his party. The Post of this city asserts his speech contained "demagogic epigrams," and we fear that Henry Watterson and the Star-Eyed Goddess will feel that the vice presidential candidate has fallen short of Democratic ideals.

To understand Mr. Davis' state of mind it is necessary to refer back to his speeches when a member of the United States senate. Upon the floor of the senate chamber Mr. Henry G. Davis said: "I regret very much that I cannot agree with all my Democratic associates. I believe the country needs a tariff and that it is impossible to have what is known as free trade, or anything near it." Presenting his reasons for dissenting from his party creed, Mr. Davis further said: "Mr. President, this country has been always most prosperous when we have had a fair and just tariff. From the organization of the government down to the present time I find when the tight times or the financial panics came that almost universally they came at times of low tariffs, when we were exporting, sending abroad a large amount of the revenue of this country derived from its soil. No country can remain rich and prosperous that has to send abroad to get its manufactured articles, and by paying abroad for manufactured articles it must send money out of the country."

Mr. Davis has been a very successful business man. He has displayed in large degree the business sense. He declared in the prime of his manhood that hard times and low tariffs go hand in hand and that "no country can remain rich and prosperous that has to send abroad to get its manufactured articles." One can appreciate the strain upon him to appear to accept the dictum that protection is robbery.

The Business Situation.

The week has brought assurance that the corn crop will not be seriously hurt by frosts. It has brought also the conviction that the estimates of the size of the crop made early in the month were far too large and that the country's production will be above present indications if the total harvest exceeds 2,000,000,000 bushels. A gentleman named Jones has figured extensively in corn crop matters for a week or so by reason of his bold assertions that the government's forecasts were close to 500,000,000 bushels too great. Mr. Jones has gained much fame by his close estimates of wheat crops, and when, after traveling many thousand miles through the west, he essayed to make a corn prediction he was given some attention. This attention became general a couple of days later when James J. Hill said that he believed Mr. Jones to be correct.

Whatever the size of the crop the fact remains that the farmers who raised it will profit well for their summer's work. The price has been high and the crop is extensive enough to give them a liberal return.

The steel situation has seen but little changes in the week. The formal reductions in billets and steel and iron bars have been made, and do not vary essentially from the expected. This completes the list of reductions and gives buyers the opportunity they have been demanding, to enter a market with prices established at a reasonable basis and pegged there. The uncertainties attending the efforts to keep the former lists in effect lost much trade. The law of supply and demand gradually overcame all such efforts. There has not been as yet a rush of domestic buyers. They are waiting for someone to start the large movement apparently, but once started it promises to be such as to recall the conditions of two or three years ago.

Meanwhile the United States Steel Corporation is transacting a growing steel export trade. It is soon to begin the delivery of nickel steel armor plate to Japan and steel rails to Canada. It is interesting to note that the Carnegie Steel Company is turning out upward of 50 per cent of all the corporation's export products.

In wholesale business the conditions reported are a decided advance over those of the past few months. There is an activity in the hardware and wholesale drygoods trades which is well worth mention and other lines are doing a fair business.

The money market has been affected but little if at all here by recent events. In the east there has been a tightening on loans ascribed to the heavy demands of the interior on New York banks for crop moving.

Our Democratic contemporary, the Post, probably having in mind the tariff views of Uncle Gassaway, referred most unkindly to the demagogery of Mr. Davis' Wheeling speech in the following language: "His speech was attractive and businesslike, containing demagogic epigrams, but the points he made were heartily applauded, and when he took his seat there were three lusty cheers for West Virginia's 'grand old man.'"

While the New York Evening Post bolts the nomination of Judge D. Cady Herrick, the Sun bolts Odell. In this case odds are even, if the paradoxical expression be allowed.

Japan has taken a leaf from the American book and is leaving a chain of schools and a rational system of sanitation behind the army in Manchuria.

Up to date Raisuli has refrained from taking over Morocco, but then he has not had time to spend all of Mr. Perdicaris' money.

Lady Curzon has the warmest sympathy and good wishes of the English-speaking people of the world in her illness.

Candidate Davis continues to view with alarm the heavy expense of government, in more or less untruthful terms.

When the sultan takes to entertaining Minister Leishman he must be expecting something.

Kuropatkin may have lured the Japanese too far into the interior to get away from them.

This is the favorite season for thuggery, when the good citizen should carry the big stick.

Frost-bitten Canada looks across the border and exclaims: "Oh, you're not so warm!"

Gen. Stoessel need not be ashamed to surrender after the defense he has made.

Apparently the Japanese have again outwitted and outflanked Kuropatkin.

Allegheny graft will not stand much investigation, though it is entitled to it.

This thing of hitting the dynamite is worse than tampering with the pipe.

What Grandpa Davis really thinks of the tariff is what he does not say.

Pennsylvania is not in the lynching belt and does not want to be.

Rushin' Russian reinforcements to the front is a steady business.

We have not heard the last of the Slocum horror yet.

Coronation Adds No Power.

The coronation of King Peter of Servia probably does not add much to his dignity or authority. The people are simple, even primitive, in their ideas and habits, and whatever of authority the king has over them is due to his absolutely unostentatious sojourn among them. All the powers, with the exception of Russia, were represented at the coronation, and the fact of Russia's representative not being present is interpreted in some quarters as a rebuke for the assassination of Peter's predecessor.—Baltimore American.

Mormon Influence in Schools.

To the Mormon mind, everything is either Mormon or anti-Mormon, and to fanatics and bigots of that sort, when the schools are no longer Mormon, they will seem anti-Mormon. But what will really happen is, that they will be taken away from the church machinery, and freed in fact as well as in pretense from all sectarian interference or control.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Police Commissioner McAdoo seems terribly in earnest in his efforts to make New York the "closed town" that Mayor McClellan promised when he took office, but he is badly handicapped. A poolroom was raided yesterday, and three men pleaded guilty this morning to running the place. How long the room had been in operation is difficult to say, but it is certain that the captain and inspector in the district never made a report on the subject and the raid was made without their knowledge. They have been asked to explain and it is possible that they may come before the trial board on charges of neglect of duty. In such event it is likely to go hard with them, notwithstanding the fact that they have a "strong pull" with Tammany and Tammany does not want the lid held down.

The police are trying very hard to keep solid with Tammany, and are thereby losing caste with McAdoo. The commissioner declares that he will make New York look like a Sunday afternoon at Asbury Park, and if he has his way this will be no good winter resort for thieves and others of their ilk. But he has to fight the full force of Tammany Hall to get the results aimed at, and that's no boy's job. The police feel pretty secure in doing the bidding of the Tammany chiefs, and they pay as little attention as possible to the orders that emanate from the office of the commissioner. At any rate, it is a very interesting little affair, with few bets on the commissioner.

Women Demand Police Protection.

Since the women of the Bronx district have taken the matter in hand there is likely to be some interesting developments in the police situation in that section of the city at least. The Women's Municipal league of Williamsburg today sent a committee to call upon Commissioner McAdoo and President Haffin of the borough of Bronx, protesting against present conditions.

There have been many assaults upon women and they now fear to appear alone in the streets. Living in hovels in the northern section of Williamsburg are about 1,000 laborers, and the women charge the many assaults and robberies to them. The Women's Municipal league demands that the police force in that section be increased, and this demand is likely to have some effect, as the women pretty generally get what they go after.

Parker One of the Many Unknown.

It is easy for Judge Parker to hide himself. All he has to do is to go out in the streets and walk. This morning he walked a mile before breakfast, and he never aroused a cheer or received a "howdy." The judge is an early riser and he makes no exception to his rule when in the city. He was out in the street before 7 o'clock this morning (probably looking for a place to take a swim), walked down Fifth avenue from the Hoffman house to Washington square, sat on a bench for a few moments, then walked back to his hotel in time for 9 o'clock breakfast. After breakfast he received a number of political callers and listened to reports on the situation and suggested plans for the future.

Your Uncle Has Many Callers.

The frosty weather of yesterday and today has made light topcoats very comfortable, consequently "your uncle" has had many callers to negotiate the return of property he has been caring for since last spring. Not in 33 years has it been so cold on September 21 and 22 as this year. However, the sun came out bright and warm, and it has not been uncomfortable for those without their "benny" so long as they could stick to the sunny side of the street. But in the evening and early morning it has been different.

Financiers Keep an Eye on Morgan.

Every time J. P. Morgan, Jr., comes across from London the tale is started that the elder Morgan is to retire in favor of his son. The report is again started because the young man has leased a house for the winter. This fact is admitted at the office of Morgan & Co., but the balance of the story is given the usual denial. The younger Morgan will spend the winter in New York. He has leased a house near that of his father, but only for four months, which is said to mean that he will return to London at the end of that time and allow his father to keep the financiers guessing on this side of the water for yet a little while.

Still a Boy, Though an Artist.

All sorts of tales are told about Franz von Vecsey—pronounce that Vaychay—the lad of 12 who does some surprising things to the violin. When he comes over for his American tour this winter he will bring with him a lad of his own age with whom to share his idle moments. Despite his genius he is much as other lads are, and his special fun is rolling a hoop in the parks. If the young artist were turned over to the street boys of New York for a while he would learn something more amusing than hoop-rolling—and they would probably make a man of him very rapidly.

Lulu Glaser Denies It.

One of the weekly theatrical journals caused a stir along the Rialto by announcing this week the engagement of Miss Lulu Glaser, the little opera queen, who hails from Sewickley, and Max Pam, the attorney. But Miss Glaser promptly spoiled the story by a denial. She admits having seen Mr. Pam very often of late, but everybody knows the singer has had many legal tangles the past few months, and therein is the explanation.

Rejoice at Fall of the Pirates.

Since the Giants have won enough games to assure them the championship of the National league there is great rejoicing among the fans. The big town has been baseball mad the whole season, mostly because there has been a paucity of good baseball here for more than a decade. It has been a great season, financially, for never did such crowds attend ball games as they have at the Polo grounds this year, even if we discount the announced attendance figures a little. The Giants are to be feasted and given benefits and be greeted everywhere as conquering heroes. And last, but not least, Matty, the great pitcher, is to go into vaudeville this winter. They might have spared us this.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Well, the managers of the Edinboro fair completely fooled old Jupiter Pluvius, or paralyzed him, maybe, by appropriating the days on which he holds his festival of the autumnal equinox. Being a teetotler his fete days are celebrated with water only, nothing stronger.

Had it not been for Jack Frost trotting his ice wagon out, the last days of the fair would have been ideal. Wednesday morning showed up bright as a bell, but cold as Erie, which ranks next to Jamestown as a cool spot.

But what do ruralists care for a dash of frosty air, or for a sprinkle of rain? Country girls, you know, are neither sugar nor salt to be melted and spoiled by a little water.

If they were either salt or sugar they wouldn't last long at Cambridge Springs, nor even at Seagertown, the home of the salt well.

As the fair neared its close the days grew fairer and warmer, and day by day the crowds increased so that the big fair ended in a blaze of glory.

"Who gets the automobile?"

That was the universal cry, like unto a college yell.

Each and every admission ticket had an auto coupon attached which entitled the holder to the rig if the figures were right.

Wonder if No. 13,262 was it?

But what's the difference whether cold or hot so the fat cattle, big pumpkins, pretty girls, fast horses, lovely potatoes and tomatoes, apples, peas and peaches, popcorn, peanuts and glass-diamond jewelry are there in profusion?

These were there, all right, and chickens, and milk separators, pet rats and crows, sour looking maids and dyed bachelors, too, with patch quilts, home-made bread and home-made preserves, home-raised posies and home-raised babies.

And the races!

You should have heard the girls from the Springs applauding—applauding any old plug of a horse—and splitting their gloves clapping a winner.

Jack Frost went in cahoot with his whiskers, Old Boreas, and raised a dusty sort of a hellabellew, but both together couldn't scare the Springs girl.

The Springs girl is mostly from the city, but after she gets a few whiffs of country air, takes a few morning walks a la Booth and enjoys a few rural drives along with Steitmater, she becomes quite countryfied, so much so that she knows a sheep from a goat, a hayrake from a corn cultivator, and has a clear and full realization of the fact that buckwheat cakes do not grow on buckwheat stalks as elderberries grow on bushes, ready to eat.

* * * * *

Speaking of automobiles recalls the fact that country people are down on them, particularly those ill-smelling red devils that scare everything that can see, hear or smell.

You may have noted the fact that these do stink worse than a fox den.

Farmers say it is the smell that frightens cattle and horses. Just what they think they are, if animals think at all, we have no way of finding out, but that they are scared plumb crazy by them is a fact.

Farm horses soon become accustomed to the trolley with its compressed air-steam whistle. This whistle is a slight improvement on the auto bazoot. While it whistles more or less loudly accordingly as the air pressure is light or heavy, it lacks the thrilling, ear-splitting, quavering qualities of the really, truly steam whistle.

As a dust raiser and gravel hurler it beats a rubber tired four-in-hand far enough. And what a plight the auto tourists are in when they arrive! They have dust in their eyes in spite of dust-proof goggles, gravel in their ears in spite of veils and ear-lugs, and mud in their throats in spite of the printed injunction to keep their mouths shut.

The autoist, however, feels exceeding thankful if these be all the discomforts that have beset him on his tour. Usually his machine stops at the very worst point on the course and he has to don his rubber pajamas, crawl under, around and over the chuckle-headed juggernaut until he finds the leak, the loose bolt or the bent thingumbob that makes it act up so hatefully.

One thing that can be said about the Springs girl that is worth while saying is that she is a good girl, wholesome and whole-hearted. At least she is whole-hearted when she joins the Springers, but she may get heart trouble before she leaves.

Just here it may be stated by way of information for the sisterhood that heart trouble is about the only sort of disorder that anyone is liable to carry home with them. Potent as are the waters hereabouts they will not cure it. Maybe they would, but the girls don't want to be cured. Indeed, if they thought the waters would cure it, or even allay its characteristic fevers, they wouldn't drink a drop.

Let it be understood right here and now that the Cambridge Springs waters do not quench the fires of love. On the other hand, they seem to feed them as oil feeds the tiny blaze in the kitchen stove, and probably, with about the same results—an occasional blow-up, and maybe a quickly made angel, for there are the dark waters of French creek handy; also, carbolic acid, cordage and pistols.

Speaking of cordage calls to mind the fact that the cordage for the fleet built by Commodore Perry on Lake Erie was made at the Irwin rope walk, now Western avenue, Allegheny, and shipped on keelboats via Allegheny river and French creek, thence by portage across the divide to the lake. The rope walk was then in charge of Widow Irwin, but she took the contract, amounting to many tons, and finished it on time. Commodore Perry congratulated her on the good quality of rope and the promptness with which the order was filled.

* * * * *

There are some men living at Cambridge Springs who saw keelboats being poled and pulled up French creek loaded with goods from Pittsburgh, while there may be some living in Pittsburgh who remember the time when almost the entire salt supply was sent from Erie by way of French creek and the Allegheny river, amounting to several thousand barrels annually.

Many parts of Perry's ships were made in Pittsburgh and sent to the lake by this inland water route.

This was also a route by which that large flotilla of battaux, barges and canoes came down to attack Fort Pitt, manned by French and Indians.

It may not be generally known that a great land and naval battle was fought down at the point in front of Fort Pitt; or was it then known as Fort Duquesne?

There is a splendid subject for a great painting. Have we an artist capable of handling it successfully? There would be but little difficulty in getting the necessary data for such a work. Of course it would take some time to collect it, but it would be worth all the time and effort expended on it.

But what has all this to do with the Springs girl and the Edinboro fair?

To be answered in our next, maybe.

American School Children.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Sir: In an article in The Gazette this morning comparisons are drawn between English and American schools and school children.

I will give my opinion in only one point in the article, where the statement is made that the American children look with respect upon their teachers.

I have known American school children for many years, they respect neither man, the devil, the policeman in their district, their teacher, the president of the Union, nor anybody else.

Many, many years ago we little school boys spoke very familiarly of "Andy" Burt, never of Prof. Burt. Later on came "Baby Elephant," so called by thousands and thousands of school children for many years.

I know three teachers in our public schools who are simply called "Baldy" by the pupils, never "Our Honored Teacher." I know two lady teachers who are simply called "Fatty" by boys and girls alike.

In one of our higher public schools just yesterday one of the professors asked a pupil for a lead pencil and the cub handed him—a toby—as a mark of respect, perhaps? And that professor was not allowed to make the boy eat it from tip to butt.

Talk to a school boy in Europe and he will take off his hat when answering, he has been brought up that way. Here he will answer with his hands in his pockets and his hat on his head—he has been brought up that way.

On this theme quite a good-sized book could be written, but it would be wasted time. The school children would read it and remark, "Say, didn't the old man get hot under the collar?" And quite a number of lady teachers would answer, "What's the old crank butting in for, anyhow?" T. G.

CRONK, CRONK, CRONK.

Out on the marsh in the misty rain,
The air is full of the harsh refrain;
The long swamps echo the beat of wings;
The birds are back in the reeds again.

Down from the north they wing their way,
Out of the east they cross the bay,
From north and east they're steering home
To the inland ponds at the close of day.

Hid in the sea of reeds we lie,
And watch the wild geese driving by;
And listen to the plover's piping—
The gray snipe's thin and lonely cry.

All day over the tangled mass,
The marsh-birds wheel and scream and pass.
The smoke hangs white in the broken rice,
The feathers drift in the water-grass.

PARKER FLOATS; DOESN'T SWIM

Simply "Sloshes" on Waves of Partisan Manipulation, Says Watson.

SCORES DEMOCRATS AGAIN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HOUSTON, TEX., Sept. 23.—Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for president, tonight delivered an address to a great crowd of people assembled here from the surrounding country, excursions having been run to swell the number of his audience. He said in part:

Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas found his voice a few days ago and spoke his little piece. The Peoples party, says Jones, is working for the Republicans.

Poor Parker! His burdens were already heavy. Too much Cleveland, too much Hill, too much Belmont, too much McCarren, too many slights put on Tom Taggart, too much Gorman, too much juggling with the old English language, too much foxiness generally—but when Jones of Arkansas rolled up, we could almost see the same old pick and spade and shovel with which he dug the graves for the Democratic national candidate in the memorable campaigns of 1896 and 1900.

If our campaign hurts the Democrats most this year that is not our fault. It is the fault of Jones and all the others who sold out the principles of Democracy to Wall street at St. Louis. Had Jones and his crowd readopted the Omaha platform or something similar, and then nominated some such real Democrat as Hearst or Bryan, the Peoples party could not have done business in 1904 at all. It was the astounding betrayal of Democratic principles by Jones, Hill & Co. which gave the Peoples party the opportunity to renew the fight for Jeffersonian Democracy. Inasmuch as we are now advocating the same principles which Bryan Democrats advocated for eight years, it seems a little hard that we should be abused as "assistant Republicans." If anybody has sold out it would be reasonable to suppose that it was the crowd who dropped their principles. We have not dropped ours.

The words right and wrong seem to have no place in the political philosophy of Alton B. He sloshes back and forth upon the waves of partisan manipulation, just like any other apple. He may think that he swims—the facts prove that he merely floats.

Why delude yourselves by hoping to get reforms inside the Democratic party? The national Democratic party can do nothing for the people. It is ruled by corporations. And it has no common purpose, no unity, no cohesion. It does not come up to the definition of a real political party. There are too many kinds of Democrats pulling against one another in all sorts of ways. It is like a balky team—it raises lots of dust in the big road, but does not go anywhere.

In my opinion, Parker is going to be one of the worst beaten men in political history, for the reason that he stands for nothing. He does not even pretend to have any principles. That such a man can be elected is an impossibility.

ENGLISH LORD PRIMATE IN RAILROAD WRECK

His Special, Hired by J. Pierpont Morgan, Crashes Into Milk Train.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

EAST BROOKFIELD, MASS, Sept. 23.—A special hired by J. Pierpont Morgan to convey himself and a party composed of the Archbishop of Canterbury and his wife; the Rev. Mr. Ellison, vicar of Windsor and chaplain to King Edward, and the Rev. Mr. Hollen, secretary to the archbishop, from Bar Harbor, Maine, to Washington, was wrecked near here today by running into a milk train. The impact of the special was so great that it carried the light milk train before it, and when the two trains stopped the Morgan special was on the bridge 40 feet above the Seven Mile river.

Engineer Merrill of the milk train had started to back his cars on the siding and was just getting under way when he heard the roar of the special approaching from the direction of Worcester, dead ahead of him. He stuck to his post, opened the throttle wide on the reverse, and started backing his train down the side track. This action undoubtedly saved the lives of all the occupants of the special, for when the impact came, the light engine, bore the brunt of the shock. No one was seriously hurt.

When the shock came Mr. Morgan, the archbishop and the other members of the party were in their private Pullman car on the rear of the special. They were thrown down, but were only bruised. A wrecking train was sent to clear the track, and a new engine was procured for the special, which resumed its trip three hours late.

HERBERT'S ENGAGEMENT AT EXPO ENDS TODAY

Large Crowd Was in Attendance Last Night for the Classical Program.

There was a large crowd of music lovers at the exposition last night to listen to the "Classical night" program of Victor Herbert's New York orchestra. It was not all classical music. In the second concert Mr. Herbert introduced several numbers of a light vein. But the audience was appreciative, just as exposition audiences always are and demanded many encores. As usual, Mr. Herbert's conducting of the Wagnerean numbers on last night's program left no room for criticism.

Today the Herbert orchestra will give four concerts and these will be the last times Pittsburgh will have a chance to hear him and his orchestra this season. Mr. Herbert has prepared excellent programs for the afternoon concert, so that those who do not wish to get into the big crowd this evening, and who want to hear Herbert's orchestra before it leaves Pittsburgh, can attend the matinee concerts and hear truly excellent programs. They are as follows:

2 P. M.

March, "Stars and Stripes" ..... Sousa
Overture, "Poet and Peasant" ..... Suppe
a Serenata ..... Moszkowski
b Panamericana ..... Herbert
Waltz, "Wiener Maedein" ..... Ziehrer
Selection, from the comic opera
"The Serenade" ..... Herbert

4 P. M.

Overture "Le Domino Noir" ..... Auber
a Japanese Love Song ..... Thomas
b Down South ..... Myddleton a Toy Soldiers' March } From b Song, Toyland, } "Babes in c In the Toymaker's Workshop } Toyland," d Country Dance } Herbert.
Mazurka, "The Dragonfly" ..... Strauss

SHOULD ABOLISH DIPLOMATIC RANK

Former Secretary of State Foster Urges Creation of Single Grade.

SCHOLARS DISCUSS PROBLEMS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—"There will be no satisfactory settlement of diplomatic rank until all distinctions and privileges are abolished, and a single grade is established in all the capitals of the world," was the statement made today by former Secretary of State John W. Foster in an address before the section on diplomacy of the international congress of arts and sciences.

Mr. Foster laid stress on the importance of establishing a system of diplomacy which will not subject representatives to inconvenience and indignity because of their lower rank as ministers. He added: "The late trouble between the United States and Turkey grew out of the fact that the American minister could not have access to the sultan and higher officials, because he did not possess the rank of ambassador, and the Turkish government refused to agree to the appointment and recognition of ambassadors with the United States."

"The Contemporary Development of Diplomacy" was the subject of an address delivered by David J. Hill, minister of the United States to Switzerland, before the same section. The advocacy of an educational enterprise of an international character to train men for the diplomatic service was the salient point of Minister Hill's remarks.

"The greatest problem before engineers and managers today is the economical utilization of labor, and scientific investigation is its sole solution," said S. L. Gantt, a mechanical engineer of Providence, R. I. Mr. Gantt divided the problem into three parts, to find out a proper day's task for a man suited to the work, to find out the compensation needed to induce such men to do a full day's work, to plan so that the workman may work continuously and efficiently.

Prof. Hoff of Germany stated before the surgery section that cancer was due to the existence of a germ, and that this germ not only grew in the person diseased, but could be successfully transplanted in other organisms.

That the boycott had no right to exist was the stand taken by Dean Draper Lewis of the University of Pennsylvania, in an address before the section on private law.

CHURCHES COMBINE IN OAKLAND DISTRICT

Two Baptist Congregations Will Sell Old Properties and Erect a New Structure Costing $35,000.

The Oakland Baptist and the Fifth Avenue Baptist churches have consolidated. Both places of worship will be sold and a new one will be erected in the Oakland district. The sale of the two properties is expected to net about $85,000, all of which will go into a fund for the new structure.

"Oakland Regular Baptist church" is the name of the organization resulting from the consolidation. A charter has been secured and the two bodies will worship as one, commencing next Sunday. Henry Johns is president of the new board of trustees. The other officers of the two churches have been retained and it is expected that the increase in number of officials will give opportunity for more effective work. The membership of the new church will be about 500.

The Rev. A. R. Stark, the present pastor of the Oakland Baptist church, will be retained. He has served there about four years. The Fifth Avenue church, which is located near Gist street, will be closed after tomorrow. The Oakland church is located at Bates and Atwood streets.

BOILER EXPLOSION IS FATAL TO FIVE MEN

Occurs Through Green Fireman—Superintendent of Cotton Mill Among Killed.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 23.—The boiler in the gin department of the mammoth cotton mill, Erwin No. 3, at Dukes, on the Cape Fear & Northern railroad, about 25 miles from Raleigh, exploded with terrific violence at 7:15 o'clock this morning, instantly killing four men and scalding another so badly that he will die.

The dead are: Henry C. Fowler, general superintendent; Lee Hurst, H. G. Braswell and George McLean, colored. Henry Wall, colored, is fatally scalded.

The old fireman of the mill had just been discharged, and the new man had gotten up too much steam. The engineer refused to work and the fireman went after the superintendent. As they entered the engine room together there was a rending roar, and the men were blown to pieces.

Miss Della Stroebe, Rural Route No. 1, Appleton, Wis., writes: "For several years I was in a run-down condition and I could find no relief from doctors and medicines.

"I could not enjoy my meals and could not sleep at night. I had heavy dark circles about the eyes.

"My friends were much alarmed. I was advised to give Peruna a trial and to my joy I began to improve with the first bottle. After taking six bottles I felt completely cured. I cannot say too much for Peruna as a medicine for women in a run-down condition."—Miss Della Stroebe.

Mrs. W. F. Hoffman, 601 North 6th street, Kansas City, Kans., writes: "For eight months I suffered with bearing down pains, dizziness and wretched headaches. The doctors called it by different names, but all agreed that I had female trouble, which was really the cause of my illness.

"They prescribed for me, and I took their medicines, but kept getting worse, until a friend told me I would never get well until I took Peruna.

"Within a week after I started to take it I felt much better and I continued taking it for two months with almost marvelous results.

"I am without an ache or pain, feel ten years younger, and feel that I owe my life and hapiness to Peruna."—Mrs. W. F. Hoffman.

"The doctor insisted on an operation as the only chance to get well, but I had always dreaded an operation and strongly objected.

"My husband felt disheartened as well as I, and when a friendly druggist advised him to bring me a bottle of Peruna he did so and I started to use it.

"In a short time my health began to increase, and my aches and pains diminished. Within eighteen weeks I was like another being, in splendid health.

"I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was pretty discouraged when I took the first dose; but my courage soon returned, as I could see that I was being benefited, and in less than two months my health was restored."—Mrs. M. Brickner.

FINES IMPOSED ON MILK DEALERS

Crusade Against Violators of the Pennsylvania Pure Food Law Bears Fruit.

FORMALDEHYDE WAS FOUND

Forty milk dealers from all parts of Allegheny county appeared before Alderman John Groetzinger yesterday to answer charges of violating the Pennsylvania pure food laws. Reports of recent tests indicated that in some quarters preservatives, including formaldehyde, have been freely used in the adulteration of milk shipped to the city.

The crusade was started last August by Special Agent H. L. Banzhoff of the Pittsburgh district, under instructions from Secretary Critenold of the state department of agriculture. The report had reached Harrisburg that adulterated milk was the rule rather than the exception in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and a thorough examination was ordered. Agent Banzhoff was given entire charge of the crusade with Agents James Foust of Altoona, G. M. Pelton of Youngville, and James McGregor of Indiana, were detailed as his assistants in the examinations in the work.

In all 737 samples of milk were analyzed by State Chemist F. T. Aschmann and in 61 tests formaldehyde was found in dangerous quantities. Agent Banzhoff, after securing the evidence of the chemist caused information to be made at once before Alderman Groetzinger.

Most of the dealers who were before the alderman yesterday entered a plea of "no defense" and settled the case by paying a fine of $50 and costs as is prescribed under the law in cases of first prosecutions. Several of them waived hearings and gave bail for court. In nearly all cases the defense of the dealer was that he knew nothing of the adulteration as the milk had been shipped to him from outside points in that condition. The following dealers paid fines without putting up a defense:

J. M. Lewis, 5723 Broad street; F. J. Johnston, Turtle Creek; John Maragas, 2134 Forbes street; Clyde Bishoff, Rankin; John Mangas, Wilmerding; John Brook, Turtle Creek; H. A. Riebel, Wilmerding; N. A. Fey, Duquesne; Jacob Heinerick, McKees Rocks; Murphy Bros., Homestead; J. T. Murray, McKeesport; William McAllister, 3416 Fifth avenue; C. W. Miselle, Homestead; H. Harris, 5513 Walnut street; C. Shaffer, 1890 Penn avenue; William Utz, Allegheny; S. Roth, McKeesport; Patterson Bros., Turtle Creek, and Charles Wolf, McKeesport.

Frew & McDermott, 519 Second avenue, U. Silverstien, 5308 Fifth avenue and J. D. Elder of Pitcairn, waived hearings and furnished $300 bail for court. Joseph Walker of Munhall, went into a hearing and was held for court. The other cases were postponed until later dates at the request of the defendants.

Agent Banzhoff has prepared a table showing the number of milk samples taken and analyzed during the present year as compared with 1903. The table shows that while in several of the small towns in the county nearly half of the samples taken showed adulterations, several of the larger ones were entirely free, notably Sewickley and Carnegie. The table follows:

	1904.		1903.
	Samples.	Formaldehyde.	Samples.	Formaldehyde.
Pittsburgh	245	8	13	2
Allegheny	218	24	43	9

Totals	737	61	264	55

Agent Banzhoff also prosecuted Dunlevy Bros., pork packers at Twenty-sixth street and Penn avenue, for using sulphates in preserving sausages, and E. T. Hibben of Fifth avenue, McKeesport, for selling adulterated maple syrup. Both waived a hearing for court.

REPUBLICAN ENTHUSIASM FROM MAINE TO OREGON

Senator Fairbanks and Secretary Shaw Meet at Chicago and Compare Notes on Their Campaign Tours—Far West Solid for Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Glowing reports of Republican gains were given the western members of the Republican national committee when they met at lunch today with Charles W. Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice president, and Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw. Both of these star campaigners met in Chicago today, where their roads crossed, the former leaving for the Pacific coast tonight and the latter just starting to campaign the east.

They both told the members of the committee of the great meetings they had addressed from Portland, Me., to Portland, Ore., and from San Francisco to Baltimore. Secretary Shaw told the campaign managers that the west was solid for Roosevelt, and predicted that Montana, Nevada and Utah, claimed by the Democrats, were more than likely to be found in the Republican column on election day. He spoke of the confidence he had met with everywhere, and it was plain that he had no fear of the outcome of the election.

Senator Fairbanks was equally as enthusiastic. He said to the committeemen that demands made upon him for speeches had exceeded the schedules prepared and that everywhere he had been most cordially welcomed by great crowds. While he made no predictions to his colleagues he did not seem to regard Maryland a forlorn hope for the Republicans.

Senator Spooner was also a visitor in the city during the day. He expressed the opinion that the supreme court decision on the Wisconsin state ticket, whatever it may be, would have no injurious effect upon the Republican national ticket.

JEWS AND CHRISTIANS GREET NEW MINISTER

Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky Attends Monument Unveiling at Vilna.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VILNA, RUSSIA, Sept. 23.—The unveiling of the monument to Catherine the Great today, in the square facing the governor's palace, was particularly interesting, because it was the occasion of the last public appearance here of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, the former governor-general of Vilna and present minister of the interior, who leaves Vilna for St. Petersburg tomorrow.

He was received everywhere during the day with the utmost enthusiasm by Jews and Christians alike. In fact, the prince is extremely popular with the Jews, who compose nearly half the population of Vilna. In conversation today the prince was quoted as saying that he firmly intended, as minister of the interior, to act in the spirit of the emperor's manifesto of 1903, and in effect said he was a resolute opponent of forcible repression, and intended to devote special attention to education. It is confidently expected here that important concessions to the Jews will be announced shortly.

A great crowd attended the unveiling ceremony. The ecclesiastical dignitaries on the platform included Orthodox priests, Lutherans, Jews and Roman Catholics. When the monument was unveiled the Grand Duke Michael, brother of the emperor, gave the signal for a salute of 360 guns. The grand duke subsequently reviewed the Cossacks of the Third army corps.

PITTSBURGHERS SAW FIRE PROOFING TEST

Experiments Made With Building Material for the South Side Warehouse System.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A party of Pittsburgh business men, accompanied by city officials, architects, insurance men and engineers of New York, went today to the Perth Amboy works of the National Fire Proofing Company and made some interesting tests of floor and wall construction for the big South Side warehouse system of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse & Transfer Company. The tests were conducted under the supervision of Prof. Woolsen, dean of the engineering department of Columbia university, who represented the building inspection of New York city.

Prof. Woolsen was assisted by Wilbur S. Lemon, an expert engineer, representing the national board of fire underwriters which recently gave the warehouse system its unqualified approval. There were about 50 on the party which was taken down the bay on a private yacht, as the guests of the National Fire Proofing Company. It was impossible today to complete the long fire test desired and that event was postponed, to take place in Pittsburgh next month.

The warehouse company was represented by G. W. C. Johnston, its secretary, and Charles Bickel, architect. National Fire Proofing people in the party included W. D. Henry of Pittsburgh, President D. F. Henry and Ralph W. Allison, general manager. J. I. Buchanan, president of the warehouse company, came over from Boston tonight and discussed the test with his officials and the National Fire Proofing people.

This bill is favored by the Philadelphia association and by other business bodies of the state, and will be urged at the coming session of the legislature.

W. H. Preston of San Francisco, a former president of the national association, read a paper on "The Economics of Conservative Credits."

The association reaffirmed its action with regard to the establishment of a bureau of investigation and punishment of fraudulent debtors, the use of which is to be at the service of members.

SENSATIONAL LEAP TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Tailor Killed by an Elevated Train in the Presence of Hundreds of Persons.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—After missing his leap, intending to alight in front of a Second avenue elevated train as it pulled in at the Eighth street station at First avenue this evening, Carl Paul Schmidt, a tailor of No. 401 East Sixty-fourth street, crawled back and was cut to pieces under the wheels of the second car.

Adolph Mason, the motorman, saw the tailor, who is said to have been out of work and despondent, make his desperate leap, but he could not stop the train.

He thought Schmidt had escaped injury until Detective Wasserman of the East Fifth street police station, who was on the southbound station platform blew his whistle and pointed to the mangled form. Hundreds of persons witnessed the man's self-destruction. The suicide occurred just at the floodtide of evening traffic.

LITTLE GIRLS ARRESTED FOR HIGHWAY ROBBERY

They Held Up a Boy and Choked Him Until He Gave Up Ninety-Seven Cents.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Rachel Thorne, 11 years old, and Sarah Teitelbaum, 9 years old, were arraigned in the children's court today on the charge of having held up and robbed 9-year-old Isadore Cohen. Isadore was sent to the grocery by his mother, Mrs. Yetta Cohen, to buy three cents worth of butter. She gave him a $1 bill, and he was on his way home with the butter and 97 cents in change in his hands when he met the girls.

According to his story, the two girls choked him and bit his fingers to make him give up the money. He succumbed to their united efforts and ran home crying. When his mother heard his story, she reported the case to the Market street station, and in a short time the two girls were arrested and turned over to the Gerry society.

The formal opening of Brushton's new public school, No. 2, has been set for next Friday evening and will be celebrated with musical and literary exercises in which the pupils will participate. An orchestra will be present. The opening will be the occasion of a great deal of satisfaction to the district because of the crowded condition of the old school which has long demanded relief.

BAD HOODOO THREATING A HOMESTEAD SUBURB

Fire and Lightning the Prologue to Accidents, Tragic Suicides and Mysterious Disappearances in Community of Munhall Hollow.

A "hoodoo" that has struck terror into many of the residents of the Homestead district stalks up Munhall hollow. It has threatened the community with depopulation and seems to augur all manner of calamities. Homes have been destroyed by fire and lightning, people have mysteriously disappeared, violent deaths of the most shocking nature have occurred within the last few weeks and added to this have been several tragic suicides. Of 200 families in the hollow over a score have moved away and others are preparing to follow.

The demon of ill-luck is believed to have made his descent on the community about three weeks ago. On the fatal day William Morris of Homeville fell into a stone crusher and was terribly mangled. On the same afternoon, during a thunderstorm, several houses in the hollow were struck by lightning. On the next morning a colored woman committed suicide.

Then Franklin Ward, a resident of the hollow, disappeared and has not been heard from since. Fred Gottscheck, a former constable, vanished from the hollow. Last Sunday Miss Anna Ingram, while visiting relatives in Homeville, took a seidlitz powder and died from its effect. William Byers committed suicide by hanging himself to a foot bridge. His wife had left him, so it is said. Last Monday night six houses in the hollow were destroyed by fire. In the cellar of one of the houses the firemen found a man with a rope busy preparing to end his life.

Among those who suffered from the fire was James Baxter, who saved part of his effects and went to the home of Mrs. Susan Bevan to live. Late on Tuesday evening Mrs. Bevan's house was burned to the ground. Baxter lost all his goods. Yesterday Baxter was found hanging in the basement of another house in the hollow. Life was not extinct and he was promptly cut down. It is thought that he will recover. Yesterday it was reported that the list of mysterious disappearances had been increased.

HARRISON ALLEN HAS PASSED AWAY

Distinguished Pennsylvania Soldier and Statesman Died Suddenly.

NATIVE OF WARREN COUNTY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 23.

Gen. Harrison Allen, second deputy auditor for the postoffice department, was found dead in bed at his home, 1017 K street, this morning. After an evening spent at cards with his wife and a number of their friends, Gen. Allen retired in apparently as good health as he had ever enjoyed. Heart failure is the only cause that could be assigned for the sudden termination of life. The funeral will be held Monday. The interment will be in Arlington National cemetery. The deceased leaves a widow and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Berlin B. Brahm of this city.

A soldier, lawyer, legislator, ex-auditor general of the state of Pennsylvania, and efficient government official, Gen. Allen had a notable career. He was born in the town of Russelburg, Warren county, Pa., December 4, 1835. He came from an old line of well known Pennsylvania families, the noted Gen. Wayne being his father's great uncle. In 1854 young Allen went to the academy at Jamestown, N. Y., and in the following winter taught school. After graduation he took up the study of law, entering the offices of Judges Jonson and Brown, at Warren, Pa.

Organized a Pennsylvania Regiment.

At the outbreak of the civil war he volunteered as a private and enlisted for three months. He was at once elected captain of his company. After two months' service he enlisted for an additional term of three years. His company was attached to the Tenth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. In November, 1862, the young soldier organized the One Hundred and Fifty-first regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, and was elected colonel, serving as such through the term of his enlistment.

Gen. Allen was brevetted brigadier general for meritorious services and was especially complimented for gallantry and efficiency by Gens. Doubleday, Meade, Reynolds and Ord. He was in the engagements at Brainsville, Fort Conway, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and Williamsport.

Upon the expiration of his term of war service Gen. Allen returned to Warren, Pa., and resumed the practice of law. In 1866 he was elected by the Republicans a member of the state legislature, serving two terms. In 1868 he was a delegate to the soldiers' national convention at Chicago, and to the Republican national convention.

Twice Elected Auditor General.

In 1869 Gen. Allen was elected to the state senate and in 1872 was elected auditor general of the state by an unprecedented majority. He was renominated and elected to the office in 1874. In 1880 he served as a delegate to the Republican national convention at Chicago and was one of the noted 306 members who voted continuously for Gen. Grant. He possessed one of the gold medals struck off to commemorate the fidelity of these delegates to the great commander.

In 1882 Gen. Allen was appointed by the president as United States marshal for Dakota, serving four years. In 1886 he was elected chairman of the territorial central Republican committee, and the year following was chosen department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Gen. Allen returned to Pennsylvania and resided there until the time of his appointment as deputy auditor for the postoffice department. Gen. Allen was a member of the Loyal Legion.

The search proved unsuccessful, and the women returned to their homes today.

Chief of Police Rotzsch of McKeesport knows nothing of the alleged runaways.

TECH SCHOOLS COMMITTEE STILL EXAMINES PLANS

GOV. HERRICK SAYS FAME IS AN UNCERTAIN THING

Does Not Understand How a Member of the Family Ever Got to Be a Democrat—Mistaken Identity in New York.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Gov. Myron T. Herrick of Ohio philosophizes in this fashion on the work of the Democratic state convention at Saratoga:

"Fame is a contrary, uncertain thing, when she places a laurel on the brow of a Herrick and makes him a Republican governor of Ohio and pushes forward another Herrick for like honors on the Democratic ticket in New York. It seems to me the people I have met here for the first time all look surprised and say: 'Oh, yes, judge, I've met you before,' or 'this is Judge Herrick of Albany,' or something of that sort. However, I hold nothing against Judge Herrick for this, but I can't understand how a Herrick ever got to be a Democrat."

Regarding the political situation in Ohio, Gov. Herrick said:

"I feel like answering that question in the words of a down-country Republican in Ohio who was asked about the outlook in his district. He said: 'We've got the district gathered like an old-fashioned Methodist experience meeting, and the Democrats stand as much chance to get in as the evil one would stand if he tried to carry off the experience meeting Bible.'

"Seriously, nothing that can now be foreseen can prevent a big Republican victory in Ohio."

STOLE BANK'S MONEY TO BET ON MARGINS

Embezzler in Prison, but Former Employers Sue Stockbrokers to Get Back Their Own.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Suit was begun today against the stock brokerage firm of Tracy & Co. to recover $41,400, which it is alleged was lost by Francis B. Wright in speculations on margins with that concern. Wright is now in the Joliet penitentiary under sentence on a charge of embezzling nearly $80,000 from the First National bank of Dundee, Ill., of which he was cashier. The bank is behind the suit.

This action is based on a law which entitles anybody to sue for the amount lost in speculating upon margins in case the person losing the money does not institute a suit for its recovery within six months from the time of loss. The suit is declared by the bank's attorneys to be the first of its kind ever started in Illinois.

LARKIN DENIES STORY OF DEAL

Reported That the Controllership Figures in the Delay Over Filing of Mandamus Suit.

COMMITTEE HAS FULL POWER

A sensational story has been in circulation for several days past to the effect that the delay in filing the mandamus suit against Controller Larkin to compel him to advertise the filtration bonds for sale has been due to the efforts of the city administration to effect a compromise with the controller whereby Larkin was to withdraw his objections to the bond issue and the administration was to pledge its support to Larkin for re-election as controller.

When the controller was asked about this report yesterday, he laughed at the idea and declared the matter would not be settled unless the court decided against him or unless the administration came to his views. Those who were responsible for this story called attention to the fact that the ordinance authorizing the bond issue does not provide how the bonds shall be issued, whether in a lump or in installments. The controller demands that they shall be issued in installments, as the bonds are needed, but he does not say what the amount of the installments shall be—whether they shall be $1,000,000 each year for five years, or $1,000,000 the first year and $4,000,000 the second year.

These points have raised all kinds of doubts because of the fact that the game of politics has not been lost sight of. The finance committee has sole power in the issue of the bonds and its judgment is supreme. It has the power to issue as the controller demands, or can issue them as the administration demands, or it can issue them as both sides might agree upon.

City Solicitor Rodgers made this significant statement yesterday: "I have not said that any suit would be entered."

This was regarded as strange when the declaration made by Mayor Hays, nearly two weeks ago, that a suit would be filed immediately, was recalled. The statement made recently by Director Bigelow—"we want to see first whether Larkin wants to go into court"—has also increased the belief that the administration is trying to make a compromise with the controller in which the controllership election next spring is to play a leading part.

The comptroller and Mayor Hays had some correspondence on the subject, but neither will reveal the nature of the correspondence except that it was in relation to the bond issue.

If the controller and the mayor should agree that the finance committee should issue only $1,000,000 of the bonds now, it would not prevent the committee from issuing the remainder of the whole amount six months or a year later. It would not be necessary to pass another ordinance in councils to do this. It was the opinion of some of the city officials, who are not exactly on the inside, that the administration might be holding off until the case pending in the county courts is settled.

This case is in relation to the refusal of the controller to pay the employes of the filtration bureau, the administration bringing suit to compel the payment. Opinions are usually handed down by the local courts on Saturdays, but the court failing to decide the case last Saturday, it was announced that a decision would be forthcoming today. Yesterday, however, it was stated that it was doubtful when the case would be decided, and that it might not be decided for some time to come.

Chairman D. J. Bole of the finance committee, said last night: "I would not be surprised if some compromise had not been reached with the controller whereby the bonds could be issued without a contest in court. I have not yet been asked to call a meeting of the finance committee to pass another resolution relative to the bond issue, but such a request would not be unexpected to me."

A TALLY-HO RUN WILL BE ESTABLISHED HERE

Stylish Coach-and-Four to Make Daily Trips Between Union and Pittsburgh Country Clubs.

A coach-and-four, with plenty of outside seats, strong wheelers and prancing leaders, a footman who knows how to wind the long horn in both soft and blaring cadences, and with all the other trappings and paraphernalia that belong to the etiquette of four-in-hand driving will be established between the Frick building and the Pittsburgh Country club next Saturday. On Tuesday afternoon a trial trip will be made with representatives of the Pittsburgh newspapers as the guests. The route will extend out the Grant boulevard to the Hotel Schenley, and thence through Schenley park and along the Beechwood boulevard to the grounds of the Country club. Trips will be made daily, leaving the Union club at 1:30 in the afternoon. The coach will return at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

There will be room for 11 passengers on the top seats. The new coach arrived in town yesterday and is a beautiful specimen of the vehicle maker's craft. It is probable that the run will be extended to the Allegheny Country club, in Sewickley, as the season progresses, and that a relay of horses will be furnished at a convenient place on the way so as to make good speed.

ROOF FIRE CAUSED PANIC AND WOMEN WERE FRANTIC

A panic of small proportions resulted from a fire on the roof of a house at 3822 Pier street, about noon yesterday. Mrs. Mary Dunlap, mother of Mrs. Rose Myers, who occupied the home, rushed into the burning house and threw furniture out of the windows. Mrs. Hannah M. Ailbright, who resides next door, got frightened and jumped down a flight of stairs, alighting on her side and being injured. A defective flue is said to be the cause of the blaze. When the fire department arrived the flames had spread to nearby houses, and it was necessary to fight the fire a half hour.

PURCHASED $9,000,000 OF PANHANDLE BONDS

New York Firms Take Part of the Issue Authorized for Refunding and Improvements.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. have purchased $9,000,000 of the consolidated mortgage 4 per cent bonds of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railway Company. The bonds are part of a $75,000,000 issue authorized for refunding purposes and for improvements, and are guaranteed by the Pennsylvania Company. Of the entire issue $37,989,000 are now outstanding. No syndicate will be formed. All of the $9,000,000 just sold will be taken by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co., and associates. Proceeds of the sale will be used by the Panhandle for refunding and for improvements.

A report from Philadelphia was circulated in the financial district today to the effect that President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad had called a special meeting of the directors to consider the advisability of pushing more vigorously the work on several important improvements. In quarters usually well informed in matters relating to the Pennsylvania railroad it was stated today that improvement work would likely be resumed in order to discount the improvement expected in traffic.

All improvement work was suspended several months ago, when earnings began to drop off.

PUBLIC APPRECIATES CHANCE TO SEE SIGHTS

New Excursion Service of Pittsburgh Railways Company Was Taken Advantage of by the Public.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday offered its "Seeing Greater Pittsburgh" service to the general public. Although two previous excursions have been made over the various lines, they were given under the auspices of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association and were for invited guests only. Hereafter, during the exposition, the cars will be run daily, for the public. Yesterday's trip was made over what is known as the McKeesport loop. The car started from Penn avenue and Cecil alley at 2 o'clock, with a score or more passengers and was run through the Squirrel Hill district to Wilkinsburg, Edgewood, Swissvale, Braddock, East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding and McKeesport, returning over the Second avenue line. This run affords an excellent view of the giant industries along both banks of the Monongahela rive and gives a stranger an excellent idea of the magnitude of Pittsburgh and contiguous towns.

On Mondays and Fridays the car will visit East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding and McKeesport, covering a circuit of 37 miles. On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays the route will be out Fifth and Penn avenues to Wilkinsburg, thence to Highland park and return to the city via Ellsworth avenue. On Wednesdays and Sundays the car will go to Avalon and from there to West View by way of the Perrysville avenue. The return trip will be made over the East street route. The fare for the McKeesport route is 50 cents and for the other two routes, 25 cents.

FRANCE IS ENCROACHING ON LIBERIAN TERRITORY

Sir Harry Johnston Says She Is Doing It Through Medium of Boundary Dispute.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Sir Harry Johnston, the well-known traveler and former consul general for the Uganda protectorate who recently returned here from a visit to Liberia, is quoted in an interview as saying there is no doubt that France is endeavoring to secure, as a result of boundary dispute, a portion of the territory of the Liberian republic. "No justification whatever can be shown for such a proceedure," he said, "other than the right of the strongest and the total inability of Liberia to resist by force any French aggression."

Sir Harry speaks highly of the American negro. A census which he made shows that there are about 12,000 of these residents in Liberia who "show under their own government what the negro is capable of in the way of civilization. American and British philanthropists who have watched Liberia for years could not but view with great bitterness any attempt on the part of the Colonial party in France to take advantage of Liberia's weakness to snip off portions of her territory."

MAYOR MADE INSPECTION.

New Municipal Hospital Buildings Are to Be Formally Transferred to City Today.

Mayor Hays, Director Moore and Supt. G. W. Moore inspected the new Municipal hospital yesterday afternoon and will meet today to formally accept the same, on behalf of the city, from the hands of the architect and the contractors. The mayor's party were well pleased with the splendid buildings erected at a cost of $110,000 for the care of infectious and contagious diseases, and the mayor said there would be no difficulty about the acceptance.

The only thing that remains to complete the transfer is the signing of the papers which release the contractors and their bondsmen. The mayor, who had not visited the Municipal hospital since the foundation was laid, expressed considerable surprise at the appearance of the new buildings and said they far exceeded his expectations. The party was conducted through the buildings by John Cashmore, superintendent of the hospital.

TO TEST THE VALIDITY OF THE SIGN ORDINANCE

Exceptions May Be Taken to Fine Imposed Upon a Well-Known Wood Street Business House.

Big, bright electric signs, that illuminate the streets on dark nights, have been declared a nuisance by Alderman John Groetzinger, who imposed fines of $5 upon Samuel Hamilton and the Pittsburgh Display Advertising Company for hanging an alleged obstructing sign over Wood street. A test case may be the result of the judgment, to determine whether antiquated laws shall govern progressive methods.

"Our sign is so firmly braced that it would be almost an impossibility for it to fall or be blown down," said a member of the firm. "Instead of suing people for expending money, the city should encourage the erection of these signs, because in addition to being ornamental, they illuminate the street on dark nights. The law which has been enforced, in declaring the sign a nuisance, is as obsolete as the blue laws of 1794. It refers to swinging lamps and signs which encroached upon sidewalk space."

BRITISH AMBASSADOR INVITED TO PITTSBURGH

Sir Henry Mortimer Durand Asked to Attend Carnegie Institute Exercises With John Morley.

The trustees of the Carnegie Institute yesterday sent a special invitation to Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador at Washington, notifying him that his countryman, John Morley, will be the guest of honor at the institute on Founder's day, and requesting him to be present also. A recent letter from Mr. Morley states that he positively will be here to deliver the principal address on November 3.

At the conclusion of Mr. Morley's visit in Pittsburgh he will be entertained by President Roosevelt, at the White House, the president and Mr. Morley having come to know each other through correspondence at the time each was publishing a life of Oliver Cromwell in American magazines.

The Founder's day committee has completed the list of persons to whom invitations are to be sent, and it represents every walk of life in Allegheny county. The aim of the committee will be to extend these invitations to all who have asked for them, keeping in view the necessity of avoiding any overcrowding of the music hall. The pressure for tickets to hear Mr. Morley's address has become quite urgent, but no invitations will be sent beyond the seating capacity of the auditorium.

HEROES MUST WAIT.

Carnegie Commission Will Meet Next Month and Then Adopt Rules and Regulations.

Practically all the rules and regulations which are to govern the Carnegie hero fund commission have been drafted by the sub-committee appointed for that purpose, but they will not be made public until they have been submitted to the commission.

The commission has held no meeting for some months and none will be held until near the end of October. Then the rules and regulations will be sumbitted and if they are approved the commission will begin its operations.

It is understood the relief fund will not be applied to cases occurring before Andrew Carnegie gave the $5,000,000 to establish it, although one or two especially meritorious heroes ante-dating that time may be rewarded with medals. The Harwick mine disaster is held to be the episode that gave the idea to Mr. Carnegie, and all heroic actions performed at that time and since will be considered as subject to reward from the fund.

Hebrews Celebrating Succoth.

Succoth, the Hebrew feast of tabernacles, began at sunset last evening and continues until nightfall on Sunday, October 2. The final day is known as Eighth Day of Solemn Assembly. The rules for celebrating are not as stringent as those of the Day of Atonement or New Year's, and the present holiday is one of rejoicing. Special services were held in all synagogues last evening and will be continued today and tomorrow.

WANTS TREATY BETWEEN BRITAIN AND AMERICA

Sir Thomas Barclay Declares People of Canada Favor Arbitration.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

EDINBURGH, Sept. 23.—The institute of international law today discussed Sir Thomas Barclay's proposal that a permanent committee of the institute be appointed for the purpose of dealing with questions arising out of practice before The Hague court.

In the course of a speech Sir Thomas Barclay referred at considerable length to agitation regarding a treaty of arbitration between Great Britain and America. He said he hoped as soon as the election in the latter country was over substantial progress would be made in this direction, irrespective of which party was victorious.

Sir Thomas said there had been doubt regarding the attitude of Canada on this subject, but he had addressed meetings throughout the dominion and found the proposition to settle differences with America by arbitration was warmly welcomed. Sir Thomas said the peace of the world now depended upon the power of neutrals and instanced the fact that the United States in the Venezuelan affair sent Great Britain, Germany and Italy to The Hague, in order to settle their claims.

A committee was appointed to study treaties of international arbitration.

A VIEW OF OURSELVES THROUGH JAPANESE EYES

Yashinto Kurioky Gives Some Interesting and Amusing Impressions of What He Heard and Saw in America.

Now that Japan has come suddenly to be reckoned as a world power, there is a general desire to learn more of her people and her resources. Much has been published recently in the form of books and magazine or newspaper articles regarding the land of the rising sun and her "little brown people." And great credit is given to the Japs for the wonderful progress they have made during the last 20 years. But, notwithstanding Japan's brilliant and startling successes against her giant antagonist, her equally striking achievements in the arts of peace and her ancient civilization, the attitude of the western mind toward the Japanese is one of extreme condescension.

It is with something of a wholesome shock, therefore, that one reads the "American Adventures of a Japanese Pilgrim," in which Yashinto Kurioky, who spent some time traveling in America just before the Russo-Japanese war broke out, gives his impressions of this country and of the American people. Yashinto Kurioky, from the pedestal of a far older civilization, surveys the American people with the mild and patronizing curiosity that a naturalist might feel toward some new and interesting specimen. He is not one whit abashed by our institutions or achievements, but, on the contrary, penetrates our foibles and weaknesses in a way that is at once amusing and wholesome.

"The American Adventures of a Japanese Pilgrim" will be published serially in The Sunday Gazette. The first article of the series will appear next Sunday in the editorial section of The Sunday Gazette.

Cured of Asthma

After Years of Terrible Suffering.

Mary Josephine Bezy, Floyd Knob, Ind., writes: "After suffering untold agonies for 32 years from Asthma, I was cured by Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but I can now do all my own work." Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, some times so bad off that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. O., Va.

Mr. W. Sererus, Cavalier, N. D., says: "I was troubled with asthma for 20 years, about 8 years ago I started to use your Asthma Cure, and have not had an attack for six years."

MADE A RECORD RUN AND SECURED CONTRACT

Special Train from Philadelphia to Chicago That Cost $1,864 Was Employed.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—By means of a special train and record run on the Pennsylvania road, F. M. Pease, railway supply manufacturer, raced from Philadelphia to Chicago and reached here in time to obtain for his company a contract involving $250,000. The stake for which Mr. Pease raced across the country threatened to be lost if he were not on the ground to keep a personal appointment. His company is the successor to the Chicago Car and Locomotive works.

Mr. Pease gave to the Pennsylvania road a check for $1,864, the cost of the special train. Incidentally he broke a former running record on the road by a minute, having made the run from Philadelphia to Chicago in the remarkable time of 18 hours and 14 minutes, covering a distance of 822 miles.

Men Growing Weaker

Strenuous Life is Using Up Their Vital Forces and Energy Faster Than Nature Replaces Them.

As a result many are being stricken with paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and nervous prostration. To overdo anything is harmful, and a continuation of it will wear out the strongest man. Overwork, worry, brain-tire, high living, dissipation and other excesses and abuses waste away the most vital elements of the blood, brain and nerve forces, and disease sets in. At first there will be a general indisposition, poor appetite, indigestion, severe headache, wakefulness and weakness in the back and spine, the temper irritable, the spirits depressed, the memory poor and the mind weakened, ending in premature decline or decay. Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food is composed of the same elements that have been wasted and worn out in the blood, brain and nerves. By making new blood it turns weakness into strength and forces new life and the vigor of youth into every portion of the body, restoring the patient to perfect manhood. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

FRANKLIN, Sept. 23.—The will of the late Arnold Plumer, banker and capitalist, filed for probate today, provides well for relatives living in Pittsburgh and vicinity and Uniontown. Lewis Plumer of Pittsburgh, a nephew, is made executor of the estate and receives $20,000 for his services. The following nephews receive $10,000 each: H. A. Plumer, Sewickley; A. P. Mr. Plumer's estate is estimated to be worth more than $1,000,000, and since he leaves neither his widow nor children the bulk of the estate goes to the children of brothers and sisters. Mrs. J. D. McCalmont of Franklin, who was reared by Mr. Plumer, receives $15,000 and the magnificent residence. George W. Plumer of Akron, O., a cousin, receives $30,000.

ROBBERS ABUSE AGED COUPLE

Leave Woman Almost Dying—One of the Gang Captured and Two Escape.

WILKESBARRE, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Three robbers broke into the house of Thomas Gibbons and wife, an aged couple of Vosburg, near here, this morning, and after torturing them in the effort to find hidden money, left the old lady almost dying and fled, after hearing the hollowing of a man, who, driving past, had heard the couple's cries for help. This man aroused the neighbors and after an hour's chase, one of the three was captured. The other two escaped. The captured man was taken to jail at Tunkhannock under heavy guard, as there was fear of lynching, and search after the others is being kept up.

Mrs. Gibbons' spine is badly injured and she is so weak, it is not believed she will recover.

Old Puddlers Refuse to Work.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Orders have been issued for the starting of the puddle mill of the lower plant of the Carnegie Steel Company on Monday. The old puddlers have been asked to return to work, but have declined to do so. The mill will require 35 men. Ten men were taken into the Girard plant last night and two heaters left the plant at the same time. The association is paying out money to destitute families among its members.

Democrats Indorse Prohibitionists.

ALTOONA, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The Blair county Democratic executive committee met here tonight and completed the legislative ticket by nominating the Rev. R. A. Hutchinson of Altoona, the Prohibition candidate for assembly, and I. S. Mock of Roaring Spring. Isaiah Wheeline of Altoona was chosen for district attorney; E. F. Curfman of Roaring Spring for recorder and Samuel J. Albright of Taylor township for poor director. The ticket is composed of Democrats, Republicans and Prohibitionists.

CROWD HUNTING CHILD'S ASSAILANT

School Girl Attacked Near Leechburg—Monongahela Woman Abused.

CAMBRIA NEGRO UNCAPTURED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEECHBURG, Sept. 23.—A crowd of fully 500 persons, of whom more than 100 are heavily armed, are searching the country around Parks township for the assailant of Erminie Coulter, the 12-year-old daughter of Thomas S. Coulter, who was attacked this morning on her way to school. Bloodhounds put on the trail failed and no trace of the man has been found up to tonight.

The child fainted on being attacked, but a short time after the man left her recovered consciousness and started for home. Her 9-year-old sister, who was ordered to run home by her sister's assailant, hurried there and told her mother, who ran screaming to her child's assistance, but fainted, and the younger daughter informed a neighbor, who aroused the countryside. Mr. Coulter, the father, led the crowd, which met the victim, who was taken home. The pursuit of the brute then commenced. The wildest excitement prevailed in the township and nearly all business was abandoned to take part in the search. County Detective M. K. Collins assisted in the hunt but returned to Kittanning late tonight without securing any trace of the man. The search was still on at 9 o'clock tonight.

The victim of the assault was attended by Dr. W. J. Carnahan of Vandergrift, who says she will recover. From the description she gave of the man it is supposed he is a resident of the township, although neither girl recognized his voice. He wore blue overalls with a dark checked shirt, was over the medium height and wore a black mask, tied with strings.

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Tonight the officers and persons who have been searching northern Cambria and southern Clearfield counties for the colored man who attacked Mrs. Thomas Borgon last Wednesday morning, keeping her a prisoner in the thickets near Patton for five hours, are losing hope of capturing him. The reported capture of the negro at La Jose yesterday proved false. At the time the report was received, a posse was following a good clue leading in the direction of St. Augustine. News of the capture caused them to discontinue the pursuit. Sheriff Lenhart and county detective Edward Knee, arrived in Patton this morning and left to take up the clue abandoned yesterday.

TWO MEN ATTACK GIRL.

Miss Ella Stilley Identifies Alleged Assailants, Who Are Held for Court.

MONONGAHELA, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Miss Ella Stilley of Clairton was walking with a man on the river bridge, when another man stepped from a shadow and struck her on the head with a hand billy. She screamed, while he rained blows upon her until she was unconscious and badly bruised and her left arm broken. Persons passing came to her aid.

Today she identified E. C. Barnes and Herman Bigelow, the former being held in $800 bail for court and Bigelow under $300 bail. Miss Stilley is 20 years old and a daughter of Jerome Stilley, superintendent of the Clairton steel mill.

IS TO DELAY ACTION IN GAMBLING CASES

Director Moore Proposes to Confer With City Solicitor Before Raiding the Gambling Houses.

Of the list of 33 gambling houses Inspector Edward Kennelly reported to Director Moore of the department of public safety, only six of them are now said to be really and truly gambling establishments. The other seven are said to be "chartered clubs," and though free and open games are carried on therein, the evidence submitted by Inspector Kennelly is said not to be sufficient for Director Moore to feel warranted in proceeding on. Those who know how thoroughly Inspector Kennelly carries out whatever work he is directed to do, marvel at the statement that the evidence is not strong enough. Adding to opera bouffe character of the entire proceeding in connection with this gambler agitation is the further statement that Director Moore will confer with the city solicitors regarding the evidence against the six gambling establishments that are said to be the real thing.

In the meantime another announcement is gravely made to the effect that all the gambling houses are now closed and will possibly remain so until the gambling crusading fever of the police dies away. Director Moore said the matter would be placed in the hands of "Acting Superintendent of Police Alexander Wallace." Wallace says it is impossible to keep the gamblers quiet. Mayor Hays still insists that he is not for a wide-open town, that gamblers shall not operate in this city and that Moore has orders to put a stop to all their operations. After looking at the situation from all view points, observing people usually have a hearty laugh.

Sibley to Campaign in Mercer.

SHARON, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Congressman Sibley has decided to spend a week campaigning in Mercer county next month. Meetings will be held in all the school houses. Major McDowell is confident of the election of the Republican ticket in Mercer county this fall by at least 1,500 majority. The Democrats are making their principal fight for the Hon. W. C. Pettitt, the candidate for judicial honors.

Wealthy Farmer Commits Suicide.

WAYNESBURG, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—William Kinney, a wealthy farmer near Bristoria, committed suicide today by shooting himself with a gun. During the panic of 10 years ago worry over indebtedness caused him to become insane, and for a few months he was confined in an asylum. He entirely recovered. Recently both he and his friends realized that he was losing his mind. Fear of being sent back to the asylum caused him to kill himself.

New Club Being Organized.

John A. Murphy, William M. Benham, Charles Eaton, Joseph C. Wasson, Frank D. Stonerod and other prominent East End Republicans are organizing a new social and political club. The men named have been appointed a committee to select a location, name the club and secure a charter.

JIM M'CUNE CAME TO TOWN AND SANG A TUNE

James W. McCune, who is always called "Jim" out in Tylersville, Washington county, came to the city last night. His presence was promptly made known in Union depot, where he sang vociferously until rudely hustled out to Liberty avenue by the depot attaches. On the way down Liberty avenue "Jim" overlooked none of the places where drinks are sold, and by the time he reached Smithfield street he was conversing confidentially with a telegraph pole. Policeman Tim Scanlon interrupted the tete-a-tete and was informed that "Jim" knew all about the ways of the city, so that any bunco game would be useless. Officer Scanlon escorted "Jim" to central station and when the sergeant started to search him his yells could be heard out on Sixth avenue. "Jim" was under the impression that he was being robbed right in the police station and late last night was still lustily expressing his rural opinion of city ways.

CONNELLSVILLE, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—If the conditions imposed by Nelson R. McNeal, commissioner of the old National pike in Washington county, are accepted, a trolley line will be built along this road from Washington to Monongahela. The road will pass through Odell, Ellsworth and Bentleyville.

PERSONALS

A party of Knights Templar from Williamsport, Reading, Pottsville and Scranton, passed through Pittsburgh last night on their way home from the conclave at San Francisco.

Rudolph Krassl, Dr. Wilhelm Hosaus and Franz Elsenman of Vienna, Austria, are at the Hotel Lincoln. The trio are Viennese merchants who have been touring the United States for the past six weeks. Their pilgrimage extended to the Pacific coast and their return was by way of St. Louis and Chicago. After seeing Pittsburgh they will go to Buffalo and from there to New York, whence they will sail for Europe.

Representative John Francies was at the Union station last night to meet Banking Commissioner Robert McAfee, who returned from Harrisburg. Francies said that no political significance attached to the meeting, but it is presumed that the coming mayoralty contest in Allegheny was discussed, as Francies is an avowed candidate for the place.

John S. Scully, who has been spending several days in Pittsburgh, left for the east last night and will spend another fortnight at his summer home in the Berkshire hills.

The absence of Wilmot M. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, from the reunion of the Sixth Pennsylvania artillery, is explained in a letter received by Joseph B. Eaton from Gen. Blackmar. The letter states that the general had an appointment with the Grand Army of the Republic Medal of Honor Men at Atlantic City, and was forced to pass through Pittsburgh without stopping in order to reach there in time.

Councilman Joseph Hildorfer of Allegheny returned yesterday from the New Castle bench show with 16 prizes won by his Clifton kennel dogs. Five of his pets received first prizes and one of his dogs, "Teddy," an English bull terrier, will be sent to the St. Louis fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Birch left on the New York special last night and will spend several weeks in the east.

The first fall meeting of the Pittsburgh Railway club was held last night at the Hotel Henry. The club this season will study the mechanical advantages of the railroads centering in Pittsburgh. The subject discussed last night was "Steel Castings."

The Fall season is here

THERE'S no gainsaying this fact. We know it by the calendar—we feel it through the crisp, tonical, typical autumn weather. The weather man was right in his prediction of frost—for mother earth was covered with her first mantle of it on last Thursday morn. Are you prepared, Mr. Man, with suitable garb?

Men's suits and topcoats $10 and $12

We maintain about forty styles in men's suits and about half that number in topcoats at these two prices—this gives you an idea as to the extent of our stock. The suits comprise natty cheviots, cassimeres and distinct and invisible plaids, mixtures, etc.—then there are plain blues, browns and black. Our word for it that you'll not find equal garments elsewhere at $12 and $15.

In topcoats you'll find the modish coverts in the three popular lengths—also a number of other favored woolens.

We ask you to notice the detail work in these garments; the shape and hang of the lapels, the hand-worked button-holes, the broad shapely shoulders, the hug of the collar, etc. You'll agree with us that they possess a grace of line and tone entirely foreign to ready-to-wear garments found elsewhere at considerably higher prices. All sizes in regulars, stouts and slims.

Men's suits and topcoats $15 and $18

In the preparation of our stock of suits and topcoats at these two prices—we devoted extra time and effort. For we know that a clothing store is usually judged by its products at $15 and $18. Our suits are made of exceptionally good quality materials—worsteds, cassimeres, tweeds and cheviots. At the two prices you'll find close on to forty styles—think of this variety—and the broad latitude a man has in which to satisfy his choice. In topcoats you'll find about fifteen styles—made of coverts, cheviots, and other stylish fall overcoatings. We are very proud of the fit, workmanship and general contour of the garments at these prices. They fully equal the merchant-tailors' product at $22 to $30.

It's clothing for men who are particular—who take pride in their apparel.

It's clothing that will win your good will and long hold your friendship.

It's clothing that will make of you a permanent patron of "The Big Store."

Relative to made-to-order clothing

For the hypercritical man—the man who's exceedingly hard to fit and please—the man who cannot satisfy himself with any but a custom made garment—we maintain a to-order department which will exactly meet his whims and requirements. Our chief cutter is Mr. Barney Middendorf—until recently connected with Langenheim Bros., this city. We employ none but the most skilled craftsmen. Our stock of woolens embraces the products of the most famous foreign and home mills. It is very extensive and will meet the tastes of the dressiest and most particular men.

THE PIRATES ARE BACK IN SECOND PLACE

THE GIANTS WERE GIVEN A SHUTOUT

Case Was in Great Form, Allowing but Two Hits—Ames Was Very Easy.

WAGNER STAR OF GAME

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—After playing hard-luck ball in Brooklyn for three days, during which time they played six games, and hard games every one of them, due more to their crippled condition in the field than the Hanlonites' prowess, the Pirates applied the kalsomine brush very vigorously to McGraw's now champions at the Polo grounds today before an unusually small gathering, considering the fact that the Giants were just after landing the required number of games to put the pennant safely out of the reach of all. Score: Pittsburgh 7, Giants 0. Today's victory gives the Pittsburgers a slight lead on the season's games thus far played, they having won 10 to New York's 9, with three more to play. It also served to put them in second place again, Chicago losing to Brooklyn.

Case, the tall twirler, was "a hatful of tricks" today. Not only did he fool the McGrawites with his slants, but he had terrific speed and control at all times. Ames proved to be "home cooking" for Clarke's men. When he was not issuing passes, which he did with a lavish hand, the Pirates were stinging his delivery. In fact, Ames' wildness lost the game before it was fairly started, his three gifts in the second inning resulting in as many runs.

Both sides drew blanks in the opening inning. In the second, however, Wagner, the first batter, was not suited and walked. A wild pitch put him on second. On McCormick's bunt, Honus reached third. Bransfield sped past Dahlen and Wagner scored. Bransfield was caught trying to steal second, but Leach and Phelps drew passes in succession. Case dropped a safe one in to right and Browne made a high throw to the plate that enabled both Leach and Phelps to score. Gilbert singled over short. Dahlen got Beaumont's roller to Gilbert in time to head off Pirate Gilbert.

The visitors done nothing in the chalking line until the final inning, when they piled up four runs in this inning Bowerman went in to pitch for New York, Marshall catching him. Ritchey touched Bowerman for a single, stole second and reached third on Dahlen's muff of Marshall's throw. Wagner walked again, the third time. McCormick flied to Gilbert and Bransfield shot one at Devlin, who threw to the plate to catch Ritchey, but Clarke was safe on third. Leach singled to left, scoring Ritchey and Wagner. Phelps followed with another to left, sending Bransfield and Leach home. Case and Gilbert were easy outs.

The nearest the Giants came to scoring was when Browne reached third in the first inning with two out. Case struck out Mertes, closing the inning. Only two hits were made off Case, one in the first inning by Browne and another in the second by Dahlen.

Wagner got back in the game today, taking his place at short. The big fellow scored the first run for his side, and in the fifth inning ran away out in left field after Bowerman's high fly, which he got, making the star play of the day. Clarke got into his uniform, but did nothing but indulge in practice and coaching.

The Pittsburghs have signed a new catcher by the name of Rafter, formerly of the New York State league. He was the receiving end of the battery consisting of Robertaille and Rafter of the Troy club. Only one game will be played tomorrow. Score:

WALCOTT IN DEMAND.

"Black Demon" Has Plenty of Chances for Fights.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Offers are being considered by Billy Pierce, the manager of Joe Walcott, for the services of the Black Demon in Seattle, Wash., and Saginaw, Mich. In the former place they want Joe to meet either Billy Woods or Noah Brusso, who is now boxing under the name of Tommy Ryan in the west. Billy Lavigne, the manager and matchmaker for the Seattle club, made Pierce a proposition to take Walcott to that city immediately after the bout with Gans at 'Frisco is decided.

At Saginaw he is wanted to box the Dixie Kid, who got a questionable award over him in Colma, Cal., a few months ago. Pierce will likely accept both, as the offers made are substantial ones.

M'GRAW CLAIMS HE IS THE HAPPIEST MAN ON EARTH

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—John J. McGraw, manager of the pennant-winning Giants, and President John T. Brush mutually congratulated each other at the latter's office in the St. James building today, and Secretary Fred Knowles joined in. McGraw said today to your correspondent:

"The ambition of my baseball career has been realized. When a boy, playing on the village common, I used to read of the great men in baseball and I made up my mind that some day, some time, I would bring in a pennant-winning team in my native state.

"Some boys dream about being president of the United States, others have ambitions in music, art, literature, the drama and on the turf. My dream was the one which the Giants made certain by their victory yesterday—the winning of the National league pennant with a New York club.

"I tried 16 years ago to get Johnny Ward to land one in this city, and I made up my mind I never would be content unless I did. Now that this is accomplished and the pennant is ours, I am as happy as a man well can be. I feel as much a boy today as I did when I dreamed of just this thing."

John T. Brush, wearing a smile as broad as a home run, was kept busy answering telephonic congratulations. He disputed the title of "happiest man" with McGraw, but the two finally yielded the happiness pennant to "old man" James O'Rourke. O'Rourke played on the Manhattan club in 1880, when that organization won the pennant. The Giants are the first New York collection to win a pennant since.

AMERICA MUST FEED EUROPEANS

Great Falling Off of General Agricultural Crops of the Old World.

DEMAND FOR GRAIN AND MEAT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—According to Consul General Mason at Berlin, Germany, the United States will have to help feed central Europe during the coming autumn and winter, on account of drought in Russia, Austria, German, Switzerland and France. The consul general states that since August 15 a careful inquiry as to the grain crops and the general agricultural situation has been made by the central station for Prussian agriculture, whose report shows there was a falling off from the yield of last year in spring wheat, winter rye, spring rye, barley and oats. Winter wheat furnished the only exception among these six leading cereals.

Mr. Mason says that the effects of the drought on pastures, meadows and root crops of all kinds, both for forage and for human food, is still more serious.

"All this has reacted disastrously on the dairying industry," says the consul general, "and milk, cheese and butter are reduced in quantity and advanced in price. The standard fruits, apples, pears, plums and peaches, which in early summer promised a full average yield, have to a serious extent been ripened prematurely by the prolonged, intense, dry heat and have shriveled and fallen off in such quantities that the autumn fruit crop is gravely compromised."

The consul general predicts an increased demand not only for corn, wheat and rye from the United States, but for fresh and preserved fruits, dried and salted fish and such meats as the present inspection law of Germany permits to be imported.

NO STREET CARS ON SUNDAY.

Fairmont, W. Va., Ministers Propose to Have the Sabbath Strictly Observed.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Manager Powell of the local theater booked the "Boys of New York orchestra" for a Sunday concert. The local ministers protested and declared that if the concert is given every member of the orchestra will be arrested, including Powell. Fairmont has been running wide open this summer and it is the intention of the ministers to have everything closed.

"We will even stop the street cars from running and will permit no excursions to enter or leave the city on the Sabbath," said a well-known clergyman today.

LAID SILVER BRICKS AT TOP OF BUILDING

Interesting Event Yesterday Afternoon at New Structure of Pickering's, Tenth and Penn Avenue.

An event of interest to the local business world yesterday was the laying of silver bricks, completing the masonry work on the new 12-story building being put up by Pickering's at Tenth street and Penn avenue. As guests at this interesting occurrence were the advertising representatives of the various Pittsburgh papers, who were looked after by James Geary, the advertising manager for Pickering's. A silver brick bearing the name of each paper was set in the top course, to stand there for ages, as the substantial construction means that many years will have passed away before disintegration takes place. The guests were given small silver bricks with the word "Pickering's" engraved on them as souvenirs of the occasion.

With the completion of this 12-story structure Pickering's will have 24 floors devoted to the sale of furniture and household necessities, making it by far one of the largest structures used for that class of business in the community. The growth of the business from a small beginning to the present mammoth proportions has been the result of fair dealing and close attention to the wants of the people. Of course, advertising on a liberal scale was a very material factor in the upbuilding of this great business. Printers' ink is used in large quantities by this firm under the direction of James Geary, one of the most energetic and progressive men in his line. His methods are direct and produce results. The name of Pickering's is known far and wide through this persistent publicity.

After the ceremony at the building the guests were entertained at lunch by the firm, Mr. Geary acting as master of ceremonies.

THIEVES ARE BUSY.

Police of Bellevue and Aspinwall Are Worried Over Activity of Crooks. Suspects Were Chased.

The home of Matthew Konold, at Center and Fifth streets, Aspinwall, was entered by thieves yesterday afternoon while the family was away. A gold watch and chain and some other jewelry was taken, the loss amounting to about $200. Entrance was gained through a cellar window and the burglars ransacked every room in the house. The police are looking for two young men who were seen loitering about the place early in the afternoon.

The Bellevue police are endeavoring to place under arrest the thieves who have been busy in that borough. Last Wednesday afternoon the residence of C. E. Miller, in Grant avenue, was entered. Nothing of any value was found. C. W. Franklin, who was assaulted by footpads on Thursday night, is in a serious condition. The borough police last night chased four suspicious persons who had been loitering about the streets during the evening.

After their wedding trip Mr. Kuhn and his bride will be at home in the Sutherland apartments in Mellon street, East End.

Va., and Miss Ida L. Sander were married. The bridal robe was of blue and white silk, the bodice trimmed in duchesse lace over a shirred yoke. The bride carried pink and white roses. After the wedding supper the bride and bridegroom went to their new home in the suburbs of Allegheny.

AMONG THE CLUBS

U. P. Women's Building Projects.

The United Presbyterian Women's association is immersed in building projects. Yesterday a building committee was appointed to take charge of the erection of a new wing to the Home for the Aged at Penn and Trenton avenues, Wilkinsburg. Another committee was appointed to arrange for the laying of the corner stone of the Memorial hospital, the foundations of which are rising at Penn avenue and Vincent way, adjacent to the Home for the Aged.

The building committee for the Home for the Aged consists of Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. H. C. Bair, Mrs. D. K. Bryce, Mrs. S. B. Donaldson, Mrs. Mattie Patterson, Alexander Dempster and H. C. Bair. The wing, for the erection of which bids will be taken immediately, will be constructed to correspond to the wing reaching to Trenton avenue. The original plans will be changed somewhat, the nearness of the new Memorial hospital doing away with the necessity of more ample accommodations for the infirmary, and the wing will have six rooms less than originally intended. In the cellar a dining room, kitchen and cupboards will be fitted up with a door opening out on the lawn for use on the occasions of lawn fetes, the managers of the Home for the Aged seeming to be fated in the selection of rainy days for their annual entertainments.

The second committee, to have charge of the laying of the corner stone, is composed of Dr. E. P. Cowen, H. C. Bair, Mrs. E. M. Hill, Mrs. Jean Sands, Mrs. J. P. Dorrington, Mrs. H. C. Campbell and Mrs. M. F. Reed. Work on the hospital is progressing slowly, the contractors having met with difficulties in excavating for the foundations. Contracts have been given for much of the interior work on the hospital building, and it is hoped that now the work will go on rapidly.

The board of managers of the Orphans' home reported 27 boys and 15 girls in that institution. During the summer all but five of the children were away for a vacation in the country. There are now 20 applications for admission before the board and eight will soon be taken in. In the Home for the Aged there are now 53 women. Five were admitted during the summer and two deaths were recorded for that period. There was $1,699 raised at the lawn fete in June.

Charter for Juvenile Court Folks.

Again there is talk of securing a charter for the juvenile court committee. Though receiving its legal standing as a department of the Civic Club of Allegheny County, an incorporated body, the juvenile court was founded and is largely supported by the permanent civic committee of Western Pennsylvania reaching out into the different women's clubs in Allegheny county and the surrounding counties for workers and funds. Yet the committee wants to break away entirely from the women's clubs and become a distinct organization. Within the committee there are many dissenting voices, however, these taking the stand that the securing a charter is an impossibility, as the committee is a branch of work taken up by another chartered organization, the Civic club. The separatists claim that they have the consent of the Civic club in their move for a charter, and that thus it will be possible to secure one.

Last spring there was a strong agitation over this question, but after a time a somewhat neutral state of affairs was brought about. Now, with the renewal of club activities, the question is brought out again like a ghost that cannot be laid.

The juvenile court committee has appointed from its members some one of each religious denomination to present the work of the committee to the churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, hoping especially to enlist the interest of the younger people in the juvenile court and its reclaiming of children from the associations of criminal court and the reform schools.

Outing of the Tea Cup Club.

Miss Anna Henderson, a former principal of the Pittsburgh School of Design for Women, was the guest of honor at a meeting of the Tea Cup club held yesterday afternoon in Kennywood park, at the invitation of Mrs. H. L. Swaney of Monongahela. The members of the club are all alumnae of the School of Design. It is a social organization and received its name and gained its members by the plan of giving the students, when they married, tea cups painted by their fellow students, both the recipient and giver becoming members of the club. Covers were laid yesterday for 26, among Mrs. Swaney's guests being Miss Henderson, Miss Kelly, Miss Sophie Keenan, Miss Olive Turney, Mrs. Will Duff and Miss Alice Gray of Pittsburgh; and Mrs. Joseph G. Herron and Mrs. Chill W. Hazzard of Monongahela.

ARRESTED FOUR TIMES.

Harry Mantell Finally Agrees, at Akron, O., to Go to Greensburg.

AKRON, O., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—Harry Mantell, wanted at Greensburg, Pa., on a charge of jumping his bail in a criminal case, was arrested four times here today. Three times he was released on writs of habeas corpus in the probate court. Officer George Anderson started with him for Greensburg, but a telegram to Ravenna stopped him at that place.

The prisoner was brought back to Akron but consented to go to Greensburg, when a charge of suspicion was placed against him, and preparations were made to receive extradition papers.

"Bob" The Bull Terrier Disappears.

"The engine house seems dead without him," is the wail from No. 11, South Ninth and Bingham streets, since the pet of the firemen, Bob, a bull terrier, disappeared a week ago. Bob knew all the tricks in the sagacious dog's tactics and had become an essential member of the company. A reward will be paid for his return.

Burlington Route Will Operate All Trains by Telephone Orders

The telephone has reached the stage of perfection in the opinion of the management of the Burlington, where it is to be depended upon for the operation of trains independent of the telegraph. The company, after exhaustive experiments, has decided to replace the telegraph entirely by the telephone, and has begun the installation of the new system on all its lines. It will be used in dispatching both freight and passenger trains.

As an auxiliary to the telegraph the telephone has long been in use on the standard eastern railroads, notably the Pennsylvania. This company has its dispatchers, trainmasters, etc., in close touch by 'phone, and its use is constant 24 hours a day. For the formal orders on the movement of trains, however, the 'phone has not been trusted so far by the Pennsylvania.

The Burlington's announcement was made after comprehensive trials on various kinds of traffic and under many conditions. The management states that these trials proved satisfactory and that under the system in vogue there was not recorded a single instance of mistake in the transmission and receipt of train orders.

The main tests have been made on the engine division between Savannah and Galesburg, a distance of 100 miles, where freight traffic is exceedingly heavy, passenger traffic light and where the telephone has been used exclusively for about two years. For a like period the telephone has been in exclusive use between Chicago and Aurora, a distance of 30 miles, where both passenger and freight traffic is very dense. Between Hannibal and St. Louis, a distance of about 120 miles, where both freight and passenger traffic is heavy, the telephone has been used for some time as an auxiliary to the telegraph wires, the former being used in the operation of the block system and the latter in dispatching the trains.

The advantages of the telephone as stated by the management are that it greatly enlarges the choice of men for the operating service. Thousands of good men can talk intelligently over the 'phone, where comparatively few can use the Morse code; it lessens the possibility of a strike and in the event of a strike makes it much easier to fill the positions. Complete records of all orders are, of course, kept.

Handsome New Cars for the B. & O.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has just made arrangements with the Pullman company for the installing on the through trains of that road west of Pittsburgh the latest designs of Pullman equipment, both sleeping and parlor cars. The designs are very different from those of 10 years ago, many of which have been in service on the Baltimore & Ohio up to the present time. There is a much greater simplicity in the ornamentation of the cars and heavy drapery and other dust and germ collecting furnishings are avoided.

Outlook for Settling Railroad Dispute.

Movements which are likely to result in a peaceful settlement of the trouble between the Ft. Wayne railroad and its trainmen have been set going well. Officers of the railroad company and of the brotherhood each decline to discuss the matter as yet, but Vice President Valentine, Fitzpatrick and Thurston said yesterday that he expected to be in a position to make a public statement in a few days. A number of other national officers are coming here from Cleveland headquarters next week.

To Ventilate Gallitzin Tunnel.

There is now in course of erection at the Juniata shops of the Pennsylvania railroad a series of steel arches which, when completed, will be used in connection with the ventilating system to be installed at the Gallitzin tunnel. The temperature in this tunnel, it is said, at times reaches 175 degrees, and is never less than 100 degrees. This great heat, together with the gases, makes the tunnel unbearable for employes who are forced to remain in exposed places on the trains. High-speed fans will be used in connection with the ashes. These fans will reduce the temperature and will draw the noxious fumes from the tunnel.

Three Uniforms for Pullman Men.

Three complete working uniforms, as the gift of the Pullman company, will be given to each one of the 5,000 men employed in car-care work by that company in all parts of the country. The company will also permit its men to have their uniforms laundered free of charge at the company's nearest laundry, where they will also be kept mended at the company's expense. The cost of the move will be $30,000, and its annual cost of maintenance is estimated at about $15,000.

Railroad Notes.

F. H. Tristram, assistant general passenger agent of the Wabash at Pittsburgh, is expected to reach this city Monday on his return from a California trip.

William F. Geisert, cashier of the general passenger department of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, has been promoted to traveling passenger agent at St. Louis.

This is the last day of the summer excursion season to Lake Erie resorts. The year has been a good one and the travel this week to Conneaut and other favored spots has been very heavy.

Chairman L. F. Loree of the Rock Island-Frisco executive committee, and President Davidson of the Frisco have been making an examination of the St. Louis & North Arkansas with a view to its absorption.

The rumor has been revived that Charles S. Clarke, who is general manager of the Mobile & Ohio, will leave the service of that company to go with the Missouri Pacific as vice president and general manager, taking the place formerly filled by Russell Harding.

The story from Cleveland that W. H. Newman would resign as president of the Central is ridiculed at the general offices of the road. It is said to have originated with the "stool committee" at Buffalo. The "stool committee," it was explained, was a lot of railroad men who had nothing to do but gossip.

It is rumored that D. E. Milleren, who has been traveling passenger agent of the Rock Island in Pittsburgh, has been appointed to a similar position with the Rock Island lines in Texas. Phil A. Auer, late the Rock Island's passenger representative here, is now general passenger and ticket agent of the company's Texas lines.

At the next meeting of the American Railway association to be held in Philadelphia the safety appliance committee will recommend that employment in the operating departments of railroads be preceded and made dependent upon a rigid physical examination. After employment periodical physical examinations are to be recommended, and a requirement that the employe shall keep up a certain physical standard.

REAL ENJOYMENT.

The woman who reads this will understand to the full what Mrs. Tipton meant when she says: "I am enjoying good health." It takes a person who has been made wretched by sickness to understand the joy of health.

There are very many women who suffer as did Mrs. Tipton, who might be cured as she was by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"It is with pleasure I recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mrs. Nora Tipton, of Cropper (Cropper Station), Shelby Co., Kentucky. "First remember my case was one of female weakness and weak lungs. I had no appetite and would often spit blood; was confined to my bed almost half of the time and could hardly stand on my feet at times for the pains through my whole body and system. My husband had to pay large doctor bills for me, but since I have taken four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, four of 'Favorite Prescription' and three vials of 'Pleasant Pellets' we haven't paid any more doctor bills. It had been seven months since I stopped using Dr. Pierce's medicines and I have been enjoying good health all the time. I can never praise these medicines too highly, for I have received so much benefit. I pray that many who suffer as I did will take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am sure they will never fail to cure when given a fair trial. Everybody tells me I look better than they ever saw me. I am sure I feel better than I ever did before."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a ladies' laxative. No other medicine equals them for gentleness and thoroughness.

EXAMINE YOUR DENTIFRICE

Acid and grit, deadliest enemies of the teeth, abound in cheap dentifrices. Fine perfumes do not make fine dentifrices. Your teeth deserve better of you than to be offered up a sacrifice to your pocketbook.

SOZODONT

is of proven value. Sixty years is a pretty good test. No acid, no grit in Sozodont. The Liquid penetrates the little crevices and purifies them; the Powder gives a bright and polished surface.

3 FORMS: LIQUID, POWDER, PASTE.

F. F. F.

is unquestionably the greatest skin and scalp remedy that the world has ever known. It cures all skin diseases from pimples to scrofula. Money back if it fails. It is the best.

NEW YORK STOCKS ARE DULL BUT CLOSE IS NEAR THE TOP

Evidence Accumulates of a Waning Interest in the Market, With Sales Falling Far Below Last Week's Record—Local Stocks Active.

A progressive lessening of the interest in the eastern stock market is evident. Yesterday's transactions fell below half a million shares, in contrast with last week's daily dealings in over a million shares. This leaves but one day of this week in which transactions reached that aggregate. Sentiment seemed altogether indifferent to the market, and it was allowed to drift for the most part on very meager dealings.

There was not even the congested activity in special stocks, which is all that has kept up the level of the dealings for several days. The Pacifics, however, continued the most prominent features in the market. The circulation of rumors regarding them, which has been incessant through the week, was not in evidence yesterday. Perhaps for that reason the strength of the Union Pacific seemed to impart some strength to others in its group by sympathy. Atchison was not notably affected.

The day's news was favorable to corn, with warmer weather reported over the belt and with the price in the market lower. Cotton, on the other hand, was strong, and there seemed to be an atmosphere of anxiety in that market, lest the unusually low temperatures of the last few days may be the herald of an early fall and of resulting hazard to an unmatured cotton crop.

The strength of cotton, however, did not prevent a number of the cotton carriers from making conspicuous advances, notably Louisville & Nashville and Atlantic Coast Line. The only explanation of this movement was some rumors of financial measures in connection with the relations between these two properties. No details were offered.

The eastern railroads were not conspicuous, but they overcame the early slight depression which affected them and which was partly due to selling attributed to London account. The falling off in net earnings for August, reported by the Baltimore & Ohio, may have acted as a drag on the group, also some views on the condition of the soft coal trade not calculated to cheer owners of coal properties.

A rather languid interest was taken in the bank statement, although the halt in the market operations may have been with a desire to know the complexion of today's statement before extending operations. The doubtful factor is the loan item, as usual. The currency movement shows a decrease of over $4,000,000 in cash up to Thursday night. There is some probability of a contraction in the loan item, as it is said that the trust companies have been placing loans during the week. This is a process that develops as money rates rise above the rate on deposits allowed by the banks. The effect is to transfer loans from the banks to the trust companies without effect on the actual cash reserves against the aggregate deposits of the banks and trust companies, which are almost wholly on deposit with the banks. The result is favorable, however, to the surplus reserve showing of the banks.

The lack of pressure on the market during the day prompted a brisk bidding up of stocks late in the day to the best prices. The closing was steady near the top. The bond market was firm. Total sales, par value, $3,335,000. U. S. 2s, the 3s and the old 4s advanced ½ per cent on call.

The most active local market of the week was experienced yesterday, with an aggregate of 4,502 shares of stock dealt in. The trading was unusually varied, and in most of the securities the close was at a higher level. The dealings in Manufacturers Light and Heat were especially large, 1,437 shares of this security changing hands. The lowest price for the day was 37½, the highest 38½ and the close 38, a net gain of ⅞. Ohio Fuel also advanced, closing at 39, a gain of ⅝. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was ½ higher at 61¼. Both of the Crucible issues closed higher, the common at 6¼, an advance of ⅛, and the preferred at 89, an advance of ¼. Harbison-Walker Refractories preferred was off one point on a small sale, closing at 50. The U. S. Steel issues were weaker here, common losing ⅛ and preferred ⅝. Westinghouse Airbrake advanced three points to 135 and Window Glass preferred was one point higher, closing at 36. Consolidated Ice common closed at 6, an advance of ⅛. Luster Mining sold unchanged at 14.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The statement of W. G. Park, chairman of the board of the Crucible Steel Company, published yesterday morning, was the most discussed financial news of yesterday among local traders. Opinions as to the Crucible's situation differed widely from each other. Some saw in the statement a conservative announcement that th company is about to resume the payment of dividends, while others saw in it only evasions of all promises. As to the advisability of the proposed bond issue the general opinion was that some more information regarding the company's present condition expressed in figures, would be very acceptable.

The activity of the natural gas stocks, which began on Thursday, became still more marked yesterday, when dealings in Manufacturers Light and Heat amounted to 1,437 shares and the stock closed at 38. Union Natural Gas Corporation shares, which are not listed, were in good demand, but remained unchanged. It is that figure bid for still larger lots and rumors that it would reach 100 in circulation. For Fayette Gas 86 was bid. There was a bid also of 5½ for Pure Oil common.

The gross earnings from traffic of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, including the Baltimore & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, Ohio River railroad, West Virginia Short Line, Ripley & Mill Creek Valley, Pittsburgh & Western, Pittsburgh, Painesville & Fairport, Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Toledo and the Pittsburgh Junction, were $5,870,352, a decrease of $119,096, when compared with August, 1903. The expenses were $3,486,112, a decrease of $70,514, and the net earnings from traffic were $2,384,240, a decrease of $48,582.

A flat denial is made of the Chicago report that the American Can Company plans a reorganization or change of capitalization.

Tonopah Extension was in demand at 135 yesterday and was sold as high as 146 in the east.

The rumored resignation of President Newman is officially denied.

Directors of the Equitable Trust Company yesterday declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable October 1.

The directors of the Oakland Savings and Trust Company have declared the regular dividend of 1½ per cent, payable October 1.

An authoritative denial was issued from the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. yesterday of the published report that the senior Morgan proposes to retire from active work and turn his many responsibilities over to his son

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Recent intelligent and extraordinarily vigorous and successful operations by John F. and George Campion on Rock hill, Leadville, has developed tremendous results. It may be stated that nothing approaching the discoveries made in this December has been disclosed in Leadville district in the last 15 years except the revelations by Maj. A. V. Bohn in the property of the Home Mining Company some five years ago. A man who has seen the vast deposit stated to friends in Denver that it was the greatest body of mineral he ever saw. "Almost as big as the Equitable building," was the way he expressed it. And it was found in a section in which very little work of consequence has been performed during the last two decades.

Hematite, Col., is now the scene of that exciting activity that invariably follows the founding of new mining camps and which is so alluring to every class of men, be they mining men, prospectors, merchants or promoters. The name, Hematite, is the source of considerable confusion, and numerous questions and being asked regarding the place and its possibilities. This new camp is situated about 10 miles north of Salida on the spur of the Denver & Rio Grande that goes to the old Calumet iron mines, which are owned and were operated in the past by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. This part of the Denver & Rio Grande will doubtless begin operations again in the near future, as it is safe to assert that this district will soon be a considerable producer, so under these circumstances Hematite will be the shipping point for the whole of the rich district in which it is located.

The Findley and Shuttloff mines, Cripple Creek, which are to be consolidated the first of the month, are now shipping about 100 tons of ore daily that averages around $40 a ton in gold, making them among the biggest producers in camp.

The Red Spruce mine on Gold hill, Cripple Creek district, is a phenomenon, inasmuch as it is the only silver-bearing property in that region. A recent shipment was estimated by the usual tests of assaying to run 50 ounces silver a ton, the gold content being only $5. The vein is about 12 inches wide.

The directors of the New York Bonanza company have levied an assessment of 3 cents a share or, approximately, $9,000 October 18 is named as the date on which the stock will become delinquent and October 31 is named as sales day. M. J. McGill, the new president of the company, announces that it is the intention of the management to continue sinking the winze below the 400-foot level, which is showing up promising ground. He states that about $3,000 will be owing at the end of this month and that this will give the management $8,000 to go on with.

DOWNTOWN PLOT SOLD FOR $90,000

Ralph M. Weaver Has Bought the Staley Property in Third Avenue.

CHURCH SECURED TWO LOTS

Further evidence of activity in downtown properties was furnished yesterday by the sale of the John A. Staley property, at 218-222 Third avenue, for $90,000. The purchaser is Ralph M. Weaver, the stock broker, who takes the property for an investment. The lot fronts 49.3 feet in the south side of the avenue, between Market and Wood streets, and is 80 feet deep. Three brick warehouses, each four stories high, occupy the site. This is the first deal for Third avenue property announced in some time and goes toward establishing a new value for holdings in that part of downtown. It shows, too, the often-pested cry that the days of big profits in real estate are gone is without foundation. Mr. Staley bought 220-222 from McKenna Brothers, in 1901, for $40,000, which figured at the rate of $833 a front foot. The present sale is at the rate of $1,835 a front foot, or $23.08 a square foot, more than twice the price paid three years ago. Since then property on the lower avenues has come into good demand because of the Wabash's needs and improvements, and it is probable that as many deals will be made there during the next year as in any other part of the downtown section. Yesterday announcement was made of the sale of the Bushel property at Nos. 38 and 38 Second avenue, and two more deals are pending for properties below Fourth avenue.

Deal Looks Different Now.

It turns out that the Roman Catholic church authorities who bought the Ann C. Lewis property in Craig street last week, also secured the adjoining property from John L. Lewis, her husband. This announcement puts an entirely new complexion on the deal from a real estate standpoint, for the price for both properties, according to the deed made out to Coadjutor Bishop Canevin, was only $80,000, instead of $85,000 for the first plot as reported when the sale was made. The two plots measure respectively 148x230 feet and 100x230 feet, in the east side of Craig street, opposite the new St. Paul's cathedral. The first property mentioned is improved with a large brick house and the latter lot is vacant. The price paid is about $330 a front foot, which is considered very reasonable in view of the depth. The property was purchased for a site for the new episcopal residence and a parochial high school, which will improve the neighborhood considerably. Although the site is a very desirable one for this purpose being large and near the cathedral it has been on the market for a year or more at a much smaller figure. For residence or hotel purposes the lots have always been viewed with suspicion, owing to the uncertainty as to the final disposition of the Duquesne Garden property adjoining, which is owned by the local street car interests. If this property should be used some day for car barns or as manufacturing shops, or if the private way alongside of it should be closed up by the owners, it would detract greatly from the value of the lots bought by the church. The building of a big warehouse in the rear of the Lewis properties also helped to keep the price down and was the main objection of several prospective buyers last year.

Lumber Trade Shows Better Times.

No better evidence of improved conditions in the building and industrial world is at hand than the increasing trade in lumber. A few weeks ago the lumber business in Pittsburgh was at a standstill. Since September 1 inquiries have been increasing at a most encouraging rate. Firms which took off salesmen early in the season have returned them to the road and are preparing to make a big drive on various timber tracts this winter. Many big orders have been booked of late by local firms, in stiff competition with concerns from other cities which are supposed to be much better lumber markets than Pittsburgh.

Two of these contracts, secured this week, are of special interest. The H. C. Huston Lumber Company has the contract for all the ties to be used next year on the Pittsburgh grand division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. This division includes all the tracks between Pittsburgh and Cumberland, the Wheeling division and the Pittsburgh & Western division. Over 250,000 ties will be required to fill the contract. About one-fourth of these will be cut by the contracting company at its mills at Emma, Pa., and Kendall, Md., and the remainder will be bought from dealers along the line. The same company secured the contract from the H. C. Frick Coke Company for 11,000 railroad ties and 30,000 feet of switch ties to be used on new tracks at the Elm Grove and Smiley works.

The other contract, secured by the Young Manor Lumber Company, was for the hemlock to be used in 80 houses which will be built for the H. C. Frick Coke Company near Uniontown. About 750,000 feet of lumber will be needed on the job.

Laundry Property Brings $19,000.

A good laundry property in the Thirty-sixth ward was sold yesterday by Jacob J. Fuchs to the West End Laundry Company for $19,000. The building is a three-story brick on a lot 40x120 feet in the east side of Steuben street. Included in the purchase is another lot 70x103 feet at the northwest corner of Steuben and Lenhart streets.

A rather novel deal in mortgages was made yesterday by the Aronson-Friedman Company, who sold a $15,000 mortgage on a business property in Fifth avenue near Stevenson street for $15,000. The mortgage runs for three years and draws 5.4 per cent interest.

According to Assistant Assessor Elmer E. Seibert, the valuation of city property will be increased nearly or quite $7,000,000 by the erection of new buildings alone when the new assessment is finished early next year. The work of assessing the new and improved buildings will begin early in October. It is estimated that the total valuation of city property will be $460,000,000.

The Presbyterian congregation of Avalon has decided to erect a new church building on the site where the old church now stands. Plans for a $35,000 building have been submitted. While the new church is building the services will be held in the Avalon borough hall.

Miner Real Estate Deals.

Wilkinsburg: James Brown & Son sold for Mrs. L. C. Wilkinson to Anthony Mausmann a nine-room brick house on 25x102 feet in the south side of Ross avenue near Center avenue, Wilkinsburg, for $7,000. The same firm sold for Daniel O'Connell 50x180 feet in the east side of Peebles street, Wilkinsburg, for $5,000. J. Wilcox Brown and E. W. Stamm are now building four five-room houses on the rear of the lot facing in Mifflin way.

Flowers avenue: Clara Scheller sold to E. A. Sweeny an improved lot 25x125 feet in Flowers avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $4,200.

Locust street: Mary Grogan and others sold to Vincent D. Nirella an improved lot 20x115 feet in Locust street near Magee street, Sixth ward, for $6,500.

Mathilda street: Adelaide G. Cattel sold to A. Collins an improved lot 18x87 feet at Mathilda and Scioto street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,175.

Corday street: C. B. McLain sold to Charles M. Miller 70x50 feet near Corday street, Twentieth ward, for $1,500.

Hint to Building Contractors.

Building Inspector Ellsworth Murphy of Allegheny complained yesterday that there have been left in his office building permits calling for expenditures aggregating over $10,000. These permits have been issued to applicants who have not paid the permit fees nor taken away the permits. Unless this is improved, said Inspector Murphy, "are for buildings now in course of erection, and I have decided to notify such contractors that if the permit fees are not at once paid I will stop work on such buildings. In many cases the failure to pay the permit fees is pure negligence on the part of the contractor; in other cases it is done premeditatedly, while in several instances the non-payment is ascribable to ignorance. I believe, of the Allegheny ordinance which compels the payment of a permit fee. In Pittsburgh no permit fee is required, and for that reason Pittsburgh contractors who erect buildings in Allegheny may be ignorant of the fact that a permit fee is necessary over here. However that may be, I propose in the future to allow no building to be erected until the permit fee has been paid."

Pittsburgh building permits were issued yesterday as follows: To Charles R. Miller & Co., for a two-story brick dwelling in Meade street, near Homewood avenue, to cost $5,000; to T. A. Coleman, for three two-story brick veneer dwellings in Idlewild street, to cost $7,500; to Miss Harriet Morgan, for a two-story brick dwelling in Bellefield avenue, near Center, to cost $10,000; to Wilhelmina E. Grim, for a two-story concrete dwelling in Campaign street, near Lincoln avenue, to cost $4,500.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices, in keeping with featureless primary and European news. CHEESE IS ADVANCED; SUGAR STILL SOARING Rutabagas Are in the Market. Grapes Move Freely—Good Hay Is Wanted.

The cheese market is in a good strong position, as is usually the case at this season of the year. Full cream cheese is scarce and quotations are advanced on both Ohio and New Yorks. Wisconsin Swiss and limberger are also higher. Butter is firm and the supply is only moderate. Eggs are holding their own and are still in good demand. The poultry market is satisfactory at present, offerings being about normal and prices being maintained easily.

There is a firmer tone to the sugar market and there is a probability of a still higher price in the near future. Jobbers say there is no let-up in the demand which has been heavy for weeks. Flour is holding its own and has been showing signs of increased strength in line with the improvement in wheat. Minneapolis mills report good inquiry for both domestic and export trade.

Trade was some better in the produce line yesterday. Kifer pears are in good supply now and seem to be in good request. Rutabagas are in the market and are selling at higher opening prices than they did last year. The Canadian crop is short and indications are that the product will be high all the season. Valencia onions are out of the market. Lima beans and huckleberries are advanced. There is fair inquiry for grapes and prices are on a satisfactory level for dealers.

No. 1 timothy hay is very scarce and is wanted. Out of 22 cars in the Manchester yards yesterday only two were graded No. 1. The stock is offering as high as $18 50 and selling around $15. Oats are in fair supply and are being placed easily at present quotations. Corn is still looking up. Notwithstanding the enormous output of millfeed, prices are staying up.

Light Developments the Rule in All the Oil Territories

Light developments are still the rule in the lower southwest fields. Light wells and dusters are in fact all that any of the fields have to offer. Near Burton on Churches run, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia company's No. 2 on the Sarah Anderson farm is holding up at 450 barrels a day. It has not been drilled deeper into the fourth sand.

Southwest of Mannington, Marion county, the South Penn company's No. 46 on the R. F. Blackshere farm in the Big Injun has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid. In the Pine Grove extension the South Penn company's No. 3 on the A. T. Morris farm, and No. 2 on the Kirkland farm, are both in the stray sand and no oil or gas found in either. Both are still drilling in the stray.

In the same district the South Penn company's No. 4 on the Pitman-Yeater farm is producing 30 barrels a day. In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn company's No. 25 on the J. B. Duhurst farm is a very light pumper in the Big Injun sand.

The Philadelphia company has completed its No. 1 on the J. M. Ashcraft farm, and No. 7 on the Bartlett-Higgins farm, and both are gassers in the Gordon.

Near Stewart Station, Tyler county, McJunkin, Moorhead & Jones have completed their No. 13 on the A. and J. McKay farm and have a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand.

In the Wick district, same county, the Fisher Oil Company has drilled its second test on the G. W. Messer farm a little deeper into the Big Injun and has increased its production to 120 barrels a day.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the Wheeling Gas Company has drilled its test on the J. B. Wyat farm through the Gordon and has a show for a very light pumper. This location is only 400 feet west of the South Penn Oil Company's good producer on the S. R. Lydick farm. On Maggoty run, Liberty district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 7 on the W. H. Dobbs farm through the Gordon and the hole has filled up 800 feet with fluid.

On the east side of the Folsom district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled No. 3 on the Mary Moore farm into the Gordon and encountered no oil or gas. In the same district the same company has drilled No. 4 on the John Price farm 60 feet into the stray and has found no oil or gas.

Near Smithfield, Ritchie county, W. A. Clark & Co. are starting a test on the Barker farm. In the shallow sand territory Wood county, the F. & A. Hochstetter Oil Company's test on the J. T. Fisher farm is a duster in the Cow Run sand at a depth of 900 feet.

The Oil Trade in the new development near Woodsfield, Monroe county, the Mars Drilling Company and the Southern Oil Company have drilled No. 6 on the J. T. Denbow farm into the Keener and the well is flowing at the rate of 150 barrels a day. This well is on the west side of the development.

In the Rays Run district, Washington county, Mallory Bros. & Co.'s second test on the W. Stewart farm is an 8 or 10-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. In the Marietta district, the Marietta Oil and Gas Company and Wooster's No. 3 on the Gus Holdren farm is a duster.

In the Smiths Ferry district, Beaver county, Pa., Glass & Co. have completed a test on the James Calhoun farm and will have a natural producer, good for five or six barrels a day. This location is one-half mile due west of the same company's gasser on the James W. McKam farm.

Galey Bros. have drilled their second test on the W. P. Brown farm through the Poe sand and found no oil or gas. It will be given a shot. The Keystone Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the Glover Bros. farm through the Gordon and has a dauber in all sands. This is the only test in that locality that has been put through the Gordon.

On Meon run, Allegheny county, S. S. Robinson has completed a second test on the Gibson heirs' farm and will have a four-barrel pumper.

South of Burgettstown, Washington county, M. Finnegan & Co. have completed their second test on the W. W. Stevenson farm and have a show for a very light pumper.

In the Bristoria field, Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the King McVay farm 33 feet into the Gordon and has a little show of oil at that depth. The same company has drilled its second test on the Salon Kinney farm 10 feet into the Gordon and has developed no oil or gas.

WHEAT IS FEVERISH ON EXPORT RUMORS

Intimation of Big Foreign Demand Sends the Cereal Up Three Cents.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—In a whirl of excitement wheat for December delivery today advanced to a point 3½c above yesterday's closing quotations. Intimations of a big export demand was the main factors in causing the advance. The market closed almost at the highest point. Corn is up ¼@⅝c. Oats are off ½@⅝c. Provisions are practically unchanged.

The excitement in the wheat came toward the close of the day. Notwithstanding heavy receipts in the northwest the market opened firm, December being up ⅛ to ¼c at $1 10⅝@1 10¾. Initial quotations on May were ⅜c lower to ¼c higher at $1 12⅝@1 12½. The improved tone at the start was due to higher cables, wet weather in Manitoba and Minnesota, and decreased shipments from Argentina. Several prominent operators were active buyers of the December option, the demand being so pronounced as to induce general covering by shorts. From $1 10⅝, at which price December sold soon after the opening, an advance to $1 11¾ was made, May in the meantime selling up to $1 12⅝. The market then broke under fair realizing sales, the impression being that some of the big holders were quietly disposing of their lines while ostensibly supporting the bull movement. Around $1 11 for December the market again received fair support, resulting in a comparatively steady tone. The bears were given encouragement about this time by a report of a St. Louis trade journal stating that on the southwest continued favorable for the germination of the newly sown crop. Increased primary receipts were another bear factor. The market, however, was drifting aimlessly when suddenly trading became wildly active. News from abroad was considered extremely bullish. Shorts, alarmed at the prospects were instantly anxious buyers. With light offerings prices rose rapidly. One of the main features in the foreign situation was a rumor that the French government was contemplating the removal of the import duty on wheat. Another factor was the announcement made by a well-known foreign crop statistician to the effect that the requirements of importing countries this year would be the heaviest on record. These adv

CITY ANSWERS ELEVATED SUIT

Denies That United State's Alleged Title Was Ever Recognized by State Or City.

HOME FOR MABEL M'CAFFERTY

The city of Pittsburgh yesterday filed its answer to the equity suit instituted by Richard M. Gulick and P. J. McNulty against the Pennsylvania railroad and the city, to restrain the erection of the elevated structure on Duquesne way.

Many of the avermenis of the city are similar to those made in the answer of the railroad company. It is denied the United States ever gave the plaintiffs title to the property between the south side of Duquesne way and the low-water line of the Allegheny river. The United States, it is averred, was never recognized as the owner of the strip by the state or city. State legislation, it is alleged, gives the city power to exercise control over the property in question and over the wharves the same as it does over public streets.

On the criminal court trial list for next week are the names of two men who are charged with murder. On Monday Ben Kelly, colored, will be put on trial for the killing of Charles Allen, also colored, on May 20 last. It is said that both men were visiting a woman who lives in the Soho vaults, and jealousy between them is said to have brought on the shooting.

On Wednesday William A. Jackson, also colored, will be placed on trial for the murder of Frances Davis, colored, with whom he was said to have been living at the time. The couple are said to have quarreled at the woman's home in Independence street, West End, on June 19 last, the result of which was the shooting of the woman.

James Falkley pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawful wounding and was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and serve two years in the workhouse. He was charged with felonious assault and battery, having cut Henry Jones across the breast and arm with a razor.

When court adjourned two juries were out with orders to return sealed verdicts in case they agreed before morning. One was in the case of T. Chalmers Johnston, charged with embezzling a large sum of money from the Boston Tourists Agents Company of Boston, Mass., while the defendant was their Pittsburgh agent, and the other was in the case of Charles Russler, charged with a felony. Russler was alleged to have committed a criminal assault on Tillie Shields, a minor child of East Pittsburgh.

Mary Bausman entered suit against Kate Bausman to recover $5,000 damages for the alleged loss of her husband's affection. The plaintiff says she was married to Charles Bausman on December 11, 1889, and that he left her on August 28, 1900, as a result of the influence exerted on him by the defendant.

At a session of juvenile court held before Judge McClung William Ellsbeck was sent to Morganza and John Black, John Meyer and Cornelius and Lawrence Daily were held over until next week. The boys are alleged to have stolen $50 from Mrs Mary A. Meyer of 714 Taylor avenue, Allegheny, mother of one of the boys. Ellsbeck is said to have broken into a trunk and secured the money, afterward dividing with his companions. The parents of the boys promised to return the money to Mrs. Meyer, and for this reason the boys were held over for disposition next week.

Little Mabel McCafferty, 6 years old, whose parents are dead, was at last provided with a home. Three men and their wives appeared before the court and asked to be given possession of the child. The court turned her over to Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Morris of North Highland avenue, who promised to give the girl a good home and adopt her.

The will of Hannah Guttman, late of Pittsburgh, which has been probated, bequeaths $500 each to the J. M. Gusky Hebrew orphanage and home and the Tree of Life Jewish congregation, on condition that the congregation observe the anniversaries of her and her husband's deaths, with the proper prayers. Morris Saller is left $1,000 as a mark of the decedent's high regard for him, and Nathan Guttman, a brother-in-law, gets $500. Other bequests are: Moses Hirsch, a nephew, $1,000; Wolf Morris, a brother, $1,000; Rachel Levi, a sister, $500. The residue is left to Mary Hirsch, a daughter of Moses Hirsch. The estate is valued at over $25,000.

Judge Marshall Brown, in an opinion in the case of W. G. Crawford, for use, against Annie B. Smith and others, awards the plaintiff a one-third interest in a check for $5,650, the proceeds of a real estate deal. The parties were unable to decide their interests in the amount.

W. H. Koerner filed a bill in equity against A. M. Stewart for an accounting for sales of a breakfast food. Koerner alleges he had an agreement for selling the article in certain territory and was to be allowed a commission. He alleges he was not allowed the proper commissions and that incorrect statements of goods sold in the territory were made to him by the defendant.

Judge Marshall Brown granted an injunction against the city of Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh Construction Company, restraining them from interfering with the restaurant business of Thomas P. Sullivan in making repairs to the Point bridge. In his bill he alleged they blocked the sidewalk and otherwise hampered his business, which adjoins the bridge's southern approach.

The following decrees in divorce were granted: Clara B. Godfrey against John Godfrey, desertion; Harry S. Callahan against Catherine Callahan, infidelity; Joseph Hilderbrandt against Pauline Hilderbrandt, desertion; Augusta Harris against Harry Harris, desertion; Rachel Martz against Lucien Martz, desertion; Mamie Benson against George W. Benson, desertion; Mattie Southwart against Walter Southwart, desertion.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by Jack Shalkowski, a drover of Munhall. He gives his liabilities as $9,746 50 and his assets as $15,384 14.

A like petition was filed by William A. Cubbison of New Castle, doing business as the Cubbison Drug Shop, retail druggists. He gives his debts as $13,144 77 and his assets as $9,245 46.

The following executions were issued yesterday: David Rose vs. Mary McMahon, $404; J. N. Piatt vs. Clarence A. Carter, $776.

Samuel Motter has sued "John Doe" for $1,000 damages. The defendant is a physician with the Boston Painless Dentists of Smithfield street, and, it is charged, extracted a tooth for the plaintiff, tearing the gum and injuring him. The plaintiff says he is unable to ascertain the physician's name.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury yesterday affirmatively recommended a petition presented by several residents of Snowden township for the erection of a bridge over Licks run at the end of the Brownsville road. A similar petition was acted upon in the same manner for the erection of a bridge over Thompson's run, in Penn and Patton townships.

The true bills returned by the grand jury are as follows: Robbery, James Donahue; libel, George Peray; conspiracy, John Robinstein, 2; Eleanor Robinstein, A. K. Stevenson; false pretence, R. J. Vogt, Charles A. Stephens; larceny, Joseph Schaffer; larceny by bailee, Samuel Silverman; misdemeanor, Lewis Ayter, George Monson, Harry Murray, Michael Pariock, Alois Schuster; nuisance, H. H. Hesbenheide; aggravated assault and battery, Michael Zedr; assault and battery, Isaac J. Adelson, Simica Bernoiowitch, William Beehl, Mattie Doubt, Lottie England, Isidor Goldstein, 2; J. Miesinger, John Muehla, Annie Poerstel, Frank Susemy, Philip Steuber.

SULTAN SENDS FAREWELL TO WIFE OF LEISHMAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Leishman, wife of the American minister and her son, accompanied by Count and Countess De Gontaut-Biron, left Constantinople by the Orient express today. The sultan sent Galib Bey to the railroad station with farewells and presents for the count and countess.

Janitor Kline Was Badly Scared.

Janitor James Kline of Allegheny City hall had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday while at work in an unused, unfloored room on the third floor of the building directly above the committee room. Kline was making his way across the room on the rafters when he missed his footing and fell through the ceiling. He managed to catch a rafter after he had gone through the ceiling up to his shoulders. The falling plaster twisted a big chandelier and the sight of Kline dangling dangerously up near the roof caused excitement among those who were in the room.

CUTTING PRICES IN WIRE NAILS

Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Endeavoring to Hold Western Trade.

FIGHT MAY NOT ENDURE LONG

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

New York, Sept. 23.—In order to hold its western wire nail trade from the encroachments of its trade enemy the United States Steel Corporation, the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company is reported cutting prices to the minimum. The Steel Corporation is in position to carry on the war for some time because of its forethought in rushing from 20,000 to 25,000 tons of finished material to warehouses in Denver, while the freight from Chicago was 45 cents instead of 77 cents, the old and present schedule.

Once the surplus supplies of the American Steel & Wire Company, the Steel Corporation subsidiary, which is conducting the war, are exhausted, the Colorado Company will have a decided advantage. It can make and sell profitably wire products in its territory below the Steel Corporation when the latter is compelled to pay the regular long haul freight on products sold in Colorado Fuel's competitive territory.

It is suggested the trade war between the Steel Corporation and the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company will never be allowed to pass beyond the skirmish stage because the predominance of Standard Oil interests in each precludes the possibility of either being permitted to seriously harm the other.

Henry H. Rogers and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., look after the direct interests of John D. Rockefeller in the Steel Corporation, while John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Mr. Rockefeller's son-in-law see that he is properly represented in Colorado Fuel & Iron.

H. H. ROGERS HOME FROM FRANCE

Erected at Pier by Mark Twain, Standard Oil Magnate Tells About Great Benefits of Vichy Celestins.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—When H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company arrived on the Oceanic the other day he was met by Mark Twain, who held him in conversation which did not appear to be humorous, for several minutes. When questioned about pacing his crack steam yacht Kanawha, the great financier said: "What's the use? There's nothing left for me to beat."

Asked by a reporter for the New York Sun what he had to say about the attacks made upon him by Thomas W. Lawson, he replied that he had read the first installment and expected to read the others, but had not lost any sleep over them, and was more interested in the beneficial results which both he and Mrs. Rogers had derived from drinking Vichy Celestins at the Vichy Springs in France, where they had spent considerable time partaking of this marvelous water. On inquiring at the American headquarters of the Vichy Company, 220 Broadway, New York City, it was learned that the same results could be obtained by the use of these waters without going to France, and their representative courteously gave interesting information showing how gout, rheumatism and dyspepsia sufferers had derived the same benefits at home by the use of Vichy Celestins, and said he would be pleased to give the same information to anyone interested who would take the trouble to write to him.

BANK'S CRASH INVOLVES ESTATES OF STOCKHOLDERS

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.—The estates of 19 stockholders of the American German bank of Sidney, O., and the affairs of the bank itself were thrown into the hands of a receiver. The bank carried over $500,000 of deposits, but the safe contained only $4,000. All the assets, if taken at their face value, will not reach $500,000, and the liabilities will exceed $700,000. Experts reported discrepancies of $140,000 in the books.

Disturbances Were Anti-Military.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 23.—The disturbances which occurred at Odessa last week are now said not to have been anti-Jewish, but anti-military and to have been caused by reserve men who, it is alleged, refused to go to the far east.

Wills His Brains to Cornell.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Dr. George S. Conant, aged 51 years, who died here today of diabetes, is said to have willed his brain to the medical faculty of Cornell university, that further investigation may be made of his theory that his disease could be traced to the brain.

LIKE A FLASH

Came a Hard Knock From Coffee.

It's a simple matter to satisfy sensible, thinking people by a 10 days' trial of Postum in place of coffee, for if it is coffee causes the illness, an almost immediate change takes place. The old coffee ails, sluggishness, insomnia, lack of energy, stomach troubles, sallow skin, headaches, and all the others, whatsoever form the nerves decide upon, when they are thrown out of balance by coffee, begin to leave and it's only a question of a short time when Postum will end them all and bring back health.

"I had drank coffee every morning in and out of season until two years ago, when all of a sudden my stomach rebelled and shortly thereafter I became a nervous wreck, couldn't eat a bite without intense suffering. I lost most all my flesh and was practically starving because I couldn't get any good out of what little food I did eat.

"One morning when in this wretchedly run-down condition I read a magazine article about Postum Food Coffee, and the case seemed so much like mine I sent out and got a package. At that time almost nothing would stay on my stomach; but the first cup of Postum Wife made for me seemed to warm and nourish me clear to my finger tips, and this delightful glow of well-fed feeling continued. For the first five or six days the Postum was all I could keep on my stomach or even take at all without great suffering, but I got better so fast I added other foods gradually and kept gaining strength and flesh until now I can eat a hearty meal and really enjoy life once more. I know it was Postum that saved me from starving to death when my stomach had been ruined by coffee.

"I know lots of folks don't make Postum right, but it takes only 15 minutes' boiling to make it perfect according to the directions. Then it's better than the best coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days' trial of Postum proves whether or not it's the coffee hurts you.

MISS BULL RECOVERS

FEARFUL DECLINE OF STRENGTH COMPLETELY ARRESTED.

Medical Skill Had Almost Exhausted Itself in Vain Attempts to Relieve Her—A Remarkable Result.

The recovery of Miss Gertrude L. Bull from her long illness, the beginning of which dates back to the spring of 1900, has not only relieved wide-felt anxiety among her many friends who had long despaired of any improvement in her condition, but, owing to the remarkable obstinacy of the case, is of great interest to the medical world.

The attack of pneumonia, which seized her already weakened system in November of 1900 and threatened to carry her off, was successfully resisted, after it had confined her to bed for a month, but a bad cough followed it and lingered all through the following summer. It seemed impossible to break it up or to restore her strength, which had been sadly undermined.

Allopathic and homeopathic doctors tried to help her, but their best efforts could not check the steady decline of her vital energies. Then she used some advertised modes of treatment, but when she saw her condition daily grew more serious in spite of all that was done, she for a while discontinued all medicine and gave herself up to despair.

"What was your condition at this time?" she was asked.

"My stomach," said Miss Bull, "was so weak I could not keep food down. I suffered from constant nausea. My kidneys were in terrible condition. My feet and ankles were swollen so badly that it pained me even to stand on them. I was very bilious. My heart was in bad shape so I could not go up and down stairs or stand any exertion, and I could not lie down in a natural attitude, but I had to be propped up by pillows when I slept."

"It seems a wonder that you should ever have recovered. How did it happen?"

"You may well call it a marvel," continued Miss Bull, "but Dr. William's Pink Pills wrought it. None of my friends thought I could live many months longer. My parents had no hope. I could not have escaped death if, at the last moment, despairing as I was, I had not had courage enough left to try just one thing more. I learned of it by the merest chance, but it was the one thing I needed most, the one thing that saved my life. When a pamphlet advertising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People was thrown in our door it was a great event for me. These pills saved me from the grave. Within a week from the time I began to take them I felt better, and in three months I was entirely well. I do not know that I can say any more except that I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly and that I dearly hope that my experience may bring good to some other sufferers."

Miss Bull, who was so remarkably cured by this great blood remedy, resides at Union Grove, Illinois. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills checked the fearful decline of her strength and rectified the disorders which had disturbed nearly every organ of her body, because they act immediately on the blood, purifying and enriching it and making it carry fresh vitality to every part. In the case of all debilitating diseases such as lung troubles, grip, fevers, and in all cases in which the system is thoroughly run down, these pills perform wonders. They are sold by all druggists throughout the world.
